Possibility Of Tax Cutback Effective Jan. 1 Increases

Demo Drive Details Told By Rayburn

Hinges Upon Revenue Level, Budget Cuts; GOP Also Seeks Slash

WASHINGTON (U)—Income tax reduction at this session of Congress became an increasing possibility today.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the controlling Democratic majority in the House, said prospects are "good" for a tax cut effective next Jan. 1. He commented after an unusual policy meeting yesterday with Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Rayburn's statement reflected Democratic determination to make tax reduction at this session of Congress a party issue—and possibly beat the Republicans to the wire before next year's elections.

Revenues Must Hold Up

Appraising the tax situation, Rayburn made clear his belief that Congress can pass a tax reduction bill in time to apply to next year's income—provided the government's tax revenues hold up at anticipated levels, and Congress continues its budget-cutting campaign.

House Republicans, who thus far have taken no official position, displayed an eagerness to get into the act on their own. President Eisenhower and his tax advisers have taken a wait-and-see position on tax reduction, with suggestions that revenue surpluses be applied first to debt reduction.

Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts told reporters he, too, was "for a tax cut just as soon as we can do it." Commenting on Rayburn's statement, he added, "If we can cut spending, we'll join 'em."

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, told news-men he was "just as anxious for a tax cut as anyone, providing he can do it with safety to our fiscal affairs."

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he believed the House will make enough cuts in President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 spending budget to justify income tax reduction.

The House already has slashed a billion dollars from the President's budget. Still to come are the principal sources of still larger potential slashes—the defense and foreign and appropriation bills. But the Senate, which frequently increases the House figures, has not yet acted on any of the bills.

Son Of Iran Bandit Slain

TEHRAN, Iran (U)—A police spokesman said today a 16-year-old son of the bandit leader Dadshah has been killed in the running fight with the gang that slew three Americans March 24.

The youth, Kamal, was reported killed in a gunfight with police between April 1 and April 5. The spokesman said there still is no evidence that Dadshah himself has been slain, as claimed by his brother Ahmed, who was captured Sunday in Pakistan with another brother and other gang members.

Police are continuing a wide-spread search for Dadshah or his body and other members of the gang that killed Mrs. and Mrs. Kevin Carroll, Brester Wilson and two Iranians in a wild desert area of southeast Iran.

Army Seeks Falling Object Which Caused Small Crater

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (U)—Sheriff's deputies stood guard today at the spot where demolition experts believe an unidentified object crashed into the ground.

A small crater, like one left by a dud bomb, touched off a search that yesterday took Army Ordnance experts to feet deep into the back yard of a San Gabriel home.

"A falling object caused the crater," said an Army spokesman. "We want to get to it to make sure it isn't dangerous."

What residents thought was a sonic boom rocked the San Gabriel Valley, a Los Angeles suburb, early Tuesday.

UAW Action Due To Help Skilled Men

Loss To Crafts Cited By Reuther; Named To His Seventh Term

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—Walter P. Reuther is offering a plan today to the United Auto Workers convention to keep craft unions from taking skilled workers from the big industrial union.

Reuther, who was unanimously re-elected UAW president yesterday for a seventh term, already has pledged his supporters to amend the union's constitution to take care of the demands of skilled workers.

The proposed changes would permit skilled groups to negotiate supplemental contracts for pay increases substantially beyond contract minimums.

Reuther said the changes did not mean abandonment of industrial unionism. He called it "refining the industrial structure of our union."

Re-elected unanimously with Reuther were five other international officers—Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey and Vice Presidents Richard T. Gosser, Norman Matthews, Leonard Woodcock and Pat Greathouse.

In regional meetings, delegates re-elected 18 members of the International Executive Board and elected one new member, E. T. Michael of Hagerstown, Md. The Executive Board members, who serve as regional directors, are all supporters of Reuther.

New Home Rate Continues Drop

WASHINGTON (U)—The Labor Department is expected to announce shortly a further slump in home construction—down to the lowest rate in nine years.

The rate of new housing starts reportedly slipped to about 880,000 a year in March, after seasonal adjustment.

Reports of the continued sag were heard in both government and industry circles, together with predictions that there will be intensified pressure on Congress to ease mortgage credit.

Grain Futures Lower

CHICAGO (U)—Grain futures opened lower in general selling on the Board of Trade today.

Fat-Rich Diet Injures Heart

BOSTON (INS)—The American College of Physicians was told today that a fat-rich diet is to blame for 90 per cent of the heart ills.

Dr. Ancel Keys, University of Minnesota, summarized: "Where do we get these fats? From meat, eggs and dairy products."

What should we eat? Fish, chicken, calves' liver, Canadian bacon, Italian food, Chinese food, supplemented by fresh fruits, vegetables and cereals.

Egypt Blasts Israeli, U.N. Troop Action

CAIRO (U)—Israel and the United States were silent today on an Egyptian charge that Israeli troops still occupy two points on Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast.

There also was no immediate comment on another Egyptian charge that U.N. troops in the Gaza Strip are crossing the border to fraternize with Israeli women soldiers.

An official Egyptian source complained that Israeli troops were still stationed at Taba, a small town six miles southwest of the southern Israeli port of Eilat, and at Ras el Nakh, apparently a point in the Sinai Peninsula 20 miles north of U.N.-held Sharm el Sheikh.

The Egyptian source said the Israelis had indicated they would not quit the two areas until Eilat is enlarged and fortified. He said they had ignored a withdrawal request from the commander of the U.N. Emergency Force unit at Sharm el Sheikh, which commands the entrance to the disputed gulf.

The United Nations declared officially March 8 that all Israeli forces had left Egyptian territory and the Gaza Strip.

The fraternization complaint was made by Egyptian army officers in Cairo. They claimed U.N. troops had been crossing the Gaza-Israeli border to get acquainted with pretty Israeli girls patrolling the other side of the line.

Mysterious Tax Payment Made; Total Hits $4,900

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Columbus' mysterious taxpayer made another $500 payment to the Internal Revenue Service yesterday.

Since 1945, he or she has sent $4,900 with only the notation "income tax payment."

Nathaniel Looker, internal revenue director here, said the envelope once again carried the name "P. A. Prager." Sometimes in the past it has been spelled "Pragle," he said. There was no return address as in prior years, when it was given as 12 E. Stewart Ave., a church.

Looker said $200 was received in 1945 and 1947, $400 each year from 1948 through 1954, and $500 annually in the last three years. All envelopes and notes have been in the same writing.

U. S. Attache Brands Spy Charges Lie

Capt. Gleason Calls Hungarian Assertion Typical Of Commies

NICKLESDORF, Austria (U)—The assistant military attache at the U. S. legation in Budapest, expelled by Hungary's Red government on spy charges, drove across the Austria-Hungary border today. He said the espionage charge was a "typical example of Communist lying."

The officer, Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, 32, of Urbana, Ill., was accompanied by his wife, Joan, and their three young children, the youngest a month old.

Gleason said he would make no other statement on the Red charges against him until he had read reports on his case and had instructions from Washington.

Charged With Picture-taking
The Reds questioned Gleason and Col. James C. Todd of Tulsa, Okla., the military attache in Budapest, for five hours on April 3 after accusing them of photographing a military barracks 55 miles southwest of the Hungarian capital.

Both Americans insisted they were only photographing scenic sights and Gleason gave up a roll of color film he said showed only family groups and landscapes. Last Tuesday the Hungarian government accused Gleason of "open espionage" and gave him 48 hours to get out of the country.

The spokesman at the legation in Budapest termed the Red charges "largely inaccurate" and said Gleason's acts did not constitute espionage under international usage.

Had Flat Tire
The Gleason family arrived in a legation station wagon. They said they had no difficulty until they reached the border—where they had a flat tire. They said they encountered no police or military checkpoints en route.

Gleason said living conditions in Hungary had improved recently because a stoppage of food exports since the anti-Communist revolt had made more available for the Hungarians.

Gleason and his family will remain in Austria until reassigned by Washington.

97 Newspapers Increase Price

NEW YORK (U)—Soaring newsprint and production costs have forced 97 newspapers to increase their prices to 6, 7 or 10 cents a copy in the past year.

The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. says this means that 378 of the 4,738 American daily English-language newspapers are now charging these prices.

"This is 97 more than in April, 1956," the association reported to its members yesterday. "Of these newspapers, 69 now charge 6 cents, 24 charge 7 cents, and 61 charge 10 cents. There were only 43 10-cent newspapers a year ago."

Morale Said High In Foreign Service

GENEVA (U)—Scott McLeod today said the "morale of the U.S. foreign service has never been as high as it is today."

He was commenting on a New York Times editorial opposing his nomination as U. S. ambassador to Ireland.

Kept Perfect Records Campus 'Bootleg' Ring Broken In Police Raid

OXFORD, Miss. (U)—A spokesman for the University of Mississippi said a perfect set of record books helped officers break up what they called a student bootlegging ring on the campus.

The spokesman said John W. Ellis of Vicksburg had records showing he had paid the state "black market" tax on the liquor seized by a police raiding party in a university dormitory Tuesday.

Ellis, a sophomore of Commerce Justice of the Peace W. A. Fulmer yesterday to liquor charges. He was expelled permanently from school.

Four other students were identified in the records as having been paid for liquor sales, the university spokesman reported.

Urge U. S. Help For Poland

Two Polish-American leaders urged President Eisenhower today to extend 125 million dollars in aid to the Polish people. Shown in Washington are, left to right, Kasimir I. Kozakiewicz, president of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America; the President; and Charles Rozmarek, head of the Polish American Congress and Polish National Alliance. Both are from Chicago.

China, Polish Commies Rap 'Ike Doctrine'

Back Egypt's Stand On Suez, Reiterate Devotion To Russia

HONG KONG (INS)—The Communist Chinese and Polish governments condemned the Eisenhower-Middle East doctrine tonight, backed Egypt's stand on the Suez Canal and reaffirmed their devotion to Soviet-led Communism.

At the same time, they echoed Russia in charging that "the peace of Europe and the world is endangered by the plans of the U. S. and its allies to establish atomic and guided missile bases in Europe."

Visiting Polish premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz and his host, premier Chou En-Lai, signed a communique at the end of the Polish delegation's visit to Peking.

The two Red regimes called for the abolition of the west's North Atlantic, southeast Asia and Baghdad pacts and for their replacement by "collective security systems."

The Eisenhower doctrine, the communique said, is a sign of "continued imperialist efforts to wreck peace."

The two premiers said the general world trend is toward peace. But they said that the United Nations emergency force in the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba region is "of a temporary nature" and exists only by "Egypt's consent."

Infant Twins Face Surgery

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Although odds against its success are high, an operation to separate the heads of Siamese twins Larry and Terry Powell may be performed soon at Children's Hospital.

The month-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, Gardena, Calif., are joined, one at the back of the head to the side of his brother's head. The fused area is 3 1/2 inches in diameter. X-rays taken simultaneously with the injection of a dye substance into the cranial spot of one showed a confluence of circulation.

A team of neurosurgeons is conducting tests which may or may not tell them whether they can separate the twins.

Plane Traffic Control Setup Asked By Ike

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to set up a new agency to decide on ways of modernizing the nation's airways control system so it can handle increasing traffic.

"This measure will greatly expedite the improvement of air traffic control and air navigation and therefore urge its early enactment," the President said in a special message.

His recommendation accompanied a report by Edward P. Curtis, who was appointed a special presidential assistant more than a year ago and assigned the job of looking for the air traffic problem. Curtis has been an Eastman Kodak Co. vice president and an Air Force general.

Curtis said present government efforts to cope with the problem are too "scattered" to be effective.

The board, as contemplated by Curtis, would serve for three years. Its chairman would be appointed by the President. The departments of Commerce and Defense would each supply an additional member.

Officials said the proposed new agency would, for all practical purposes, replace the Air Navigation Development Board which was set up in 1948. It would not, however, interfere with the regulatory work of the Civil Aeronautics Administration or the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Civil War Bond Suit Could Cost Texas 3 Million

AUSTIN, Tex. (U)—The House has approved a resolution allowing a suit against the state for some Civil War bonds which a representative said could cost Texas up to three million dollars.

The resolution allows Mrs. W. B. Buford of New Orleans and George B. Lindler of Houston, Tex., to sue for $46,000 worth of Civil War bonds issued by the state in 1861 and allegedly never redeemed. The sponsor, Rep. Carlton Moore, said Lindler is the administrator of the estate of Jeff Chandler, who originally owned the bonds.

Rep. Tony Koriotti failed in an effort to knock off the provision allowing the interest. He said the state had a 10 per cent interest on the bonds, could run the total owned to three million dollars if the suit was successful.

Leaky Tank Car Blamed; Over 20 Ill

Some Residents Evacuated; Winds Clear Away Fumes

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. (U)—Chlorine gas escaping from a leaking railroad tank car early today made a score of persons ill and forced evacuations of a large area near this western Pennsylvania community.

Ellwood City Hospital reported that it had treated a total of 29 persons, many of the members of volunteer fire companies.

Six persons were admitted for further treatment, the hospital said, adding that none appeared to be in serious condition.

A workman wearing an oxygen-supplied mask succeeded in shutting off the escaping greenish-yellow gas that was boiling from the tank car, about an hour after the leak was discovered.

Residents of the tiny community of Frisco, where the leak developed, were returning to their homes as a rising wind began carrying away the gas.

Firemen, using fog nozzles, sprayed water over the tank car and surrounding buildings in a continuing effort to decontaminate the area.

Used In Bleaching Fluid

The tank car, parked on a railroad siding, was estimated to contain perhaps 50,000 pounds of a chlorine compound used in the manufacture of a bleaching fluid. It was consigned to Bishop Laboratories Inc., which has a plant in the town of Frisco, 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

Jay Johns, an official of another chemical firm which has a plant nearby, said he was notified of the leak about 5:30 a.m.

"When I got to our plant you could see this greenish-yellow vapor boiling out of the top of the car."

"It was rolling up and down the Connoquessing Creek Valley. There were a dozen ambulances, and firemen were going to neighboring houses, taking out people who had been made ill and going to other houses to warn the people to get out."

Man Climbs On Car

"After a while a man with a gas mask on climbed up on top of the tank car and got the valve closed. The leak stopped. I couldn't tell who he was."

The grade school in Frisco was ordered closed for the day.

Johns, an official of Calgon, Inc., a firm manufacturing water softeners and other chemicals, said workers employed by his company had been ordered to report for work after the gas was cleared away from the plant area.

The town of Frisco lies mostly in the Connoquessing Valley and has about 1,200 residents. Of these, at least 200 left their homes before the gas leak was controlled.

Police, firemen and Civil Defense volunteers rushed to spread the alarm, knocking on doors to warn residents to flee the neighborhood.

Coffee Price Cut Ordered

NEW YORK (U)—The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and General Foods Corp. announced coffee price cuts today. The reductions followed a recent drop in the cost of green coffee beans.

ASP cut its bag-packed coffee 2 to 4 cents a pound. The new prices are 88 cents for Red Circle, down 2 cents; 93 cents for Bokar, down 2 cents; and 83 cents for Eight O'Clock, down 4 cents.

General Foods reduced wholesale prices of its coffees 2 to 4 cents a pound. This followed a cut of 2 to 3 cents by the company on Feb. 25.

At a well House, Yuban and Regular Sanka were cut 4 cents, and Regular Bliss was reduced 2 cents.

Makarios Heads Back To Greece

TANANARIVE, Madagascar (U)—Archbishop Makarios left today by air for Nairobi and Athens after being held 13 months on the Seychelle Islands north of Madagascar.

During a 36-hour stopover here, the Greek Cypriot leader conferred with Francis Noel-Baker, Laborite member of the British Parliament, who declared present British policy toward Cyprus is "stupid and dangerous."

In Ottawa, the Canadian House of Commons took a similar action on repayment terms of Britain's $1,185,000,000 postwar loan from Canada.

Opposition came from members of both parties.

Rep. Sheehan (R-Ill.) and Rooney (D-N.Y.) joined in pointing to the tax cut. Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) said the British are buying swank residences for their diplomats, and that Queen Elizabeth took along a two-ton wardrobe for a four-day visit to Paris.

Supporters portrayed the measure as a good business deal for the United States, possibly saving this country up to two billion dollars, as well as a booster in Anglo-American relations.

British Tax Cut Shadows Loan Payment Delay Vote

WASHINGTON (U)—The British government, hoping for congressional approval of its bid to postpone payments on a big debt to this country, could hardly have picked a worse moment to announce a tax cut at home.

The ink was barely dry on newspaper stories about the 250-million-dollar British tax cut when House members began debate yesterday on a bill to allow Britain to postpone up to seven annual payments on her $4,372,000,000 loan, made in 1945.

The House finally passed the bill 218-167 and sent it to President Eisenhower—but not before plenty of talk about enriching Britain at the expense of U. S. taxpayers.

Summerfield Reports
Every Effort Made To Stay Within Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department said today there will be some out-right layoffs of postal workers and reductions in working hours for others due to the service cutbacks to be started Saturday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield has told a House Appropriations subcommittee "we made every effort humanly possible" to live within the Post Office Department's budget.

His testimony last week, requesting 47 million dollars more to maintain normal mail service in the last three months of this fiscal year, was made public today.

The committee later voted to give him 17 million dollars but delayed a vote on the other 30 million until Friday.

Cut Looms Saturday

The postmaster general, insisting on the full amount, then ordered post offices to prepare to halt virtually all Saturday mail services, starting Saturday.

He told the subcommittee the Post Office already had put a freeze on extension of any routes in the quarter ending June 30.

And, he said, "Frankly, if we do not use every effort to economize, 47 million dollars is not going to be enough to maintain the present service, without an extension of additional city carrier routes."

The hearing record showed that Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), committee chairman, said three times Summerfield had had notice "that you were to live" within the $2,113,440,000 Post Office budget.

Firemen searched for some time before locating the gas leak. Meanwhile, ambulances were called from other communities as a precautionary measure.

John Pelloni, owner of the building housing the Bison plant, said his son Daniel, 28, succeeded in shutting off the escaping gas.

"If the whole tank of gas had escaped you could smell it in Pittsburgh," Pelloni said.

Blasts Damage
Two Dwellings
In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Explosions, believed to have been caused by dynamite, damaged two houses in a white neighborhood last night. Neighbors said the houses recently had been sold to Negroes.

There were no injuries. The houses are in a block of eight homes, all of which were owned by white persons until this week.

A resident said one of the homes was sold to a Negro Monday, and the other to another Negro Tuesday.

The front porch of one of the houses was badly damaged. The explosion in the other occurred in the basement, damaging the flooring and breaking most of the windows.

Bill Gets Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to grant two billion dollars in federal aid for school construction takes its next congressional step today — full committee consideration.

Rep. Bailey (D-W.Va.) said in advance he would recommend approval of the bill by the House Education and Labor Committee.

Indications were that backers were in no hurry to get the bill to the floor in the present atmosphere of budget cutting.

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Social Security Administration says some elderly Americans won't get public assistance checks next month if congress does not provide more money immediately.

Social security administrator Charles I. Shottland told a House appropriations subcommittee that unless Congress gives him some money by April 20, the agency will not be able to process grants for May "and some states will not be able to make assistance payments."

A supplemental appropriation of 275 million dollars for the agency is tied up in a House-Senate conference over the question of how much money should be given the states for administering the social security program.

The House wants to write a limitation into the measure but the Senate is opposed. Both sides agree that the agency should have the 275 million dollars for May and June payments.

Shottland, whose testimony was made public today, termed it a "critical situation."

A Varig Airline crashed in southern Brazil on Sunday, killing 24 persons.

'How To Win' Parley
Aims To Recoup Loss
Of Strength In 1956

OMAHA (AP) — Republicans from eight Midwest states open the first of six "how to win" sessions today in the heart of traditionally Republican territory.

But even here, the urgency of the Republican problem is apparent, for the GOP suffered losses in the farm states in 1956.

Seven of the eight states represented were in the Republican column last year but the GOP actually lost ground in four — Iowa, Kansas, Colorado and South Dakota.

Only two of the eight maintain solidly Republican congressional delegations. They are Nebraska and North Dakota. Minnesota's congressional delegation is split — five Republicans and four Democrats. Oklahoma has five Democrats and one Republican.

Alcorn Presiding

National Republican Chairman Meade Alcorn, who will preside at the meeting, says, "The campaign in the farm states will be tough. We are not conceding anything, but we are being coldly realistic."

Selection of Nebraska — where Rep. R. D. Harrison of the House Agriculture Committee won reelection by 218 votes — for the meeting site emphasizes the importance of the farm problem in the initial meeting.

Nebraska National Committeeman T. H. Maenner of Omaha, conference host, said he is hopeful that the meeting may unearth more of "what the farmers really feel."

Special committees will work behind closed doors, starting tomorrow, on Republican organization, formulation of state, congressional and county conferences, Democratic weaknesses and Republican goals. The budget and "Modern Republicanism" probably will be discussed. The finance committee meets today.

Schoepel, Simpson Attend

Chairman Andrew Schoepel of the Senate Campaign Committee and Chairman Richard M. Simpson of the Congressional Campaign Committee will be at the meeting.

National committee members, state chairmen and vice chairmen, state finance chairmen, Young Republican chairmen, state presidents of the Federation of Republican Women have been invited to bring the planners "frank answers, not unrealistic hopes," Alcorn said.

Teamsters'
Board Will
Air Strategy

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Executive Board of the giant Teamsters Union has chosen this sunny Gulf port (pop. 66,550) for a secret strategy meeting next Tuesday.

The emergency meeting was reported to have been called for one main purpose — to decide whether the union will defend itself on AFL-CIO charges that it is substantially dominated by "corrupt" influences.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee has given the Teamsters the date of May 6 for a hearing in Washington if the Teamsters organization wants to defend itself.

An AFL-CIO finding that the corruption charges are true could lead to ousting of the Teamsters from the federation. The union is considered the largest single AFL-CIO affiliate, with about 1,350,000 members.

Disclosures about president Beck's admitted personal use of large sums of Teamsters funds, as well as involvement of other Teamsters top officials in various charges, have shaken the huge labor organization to its roots.

It is reported some of the union's top officers will insist that the union appear before the AFL-CIO committee May 6, but other union officials, including Beck, were reported to be balking and counseling instead that the union snub the entire AFL-CIO proceedings, whatever the consequences.

Sonic Boom Gets Blame For Blast

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP) — A sonic boom was blamed today by residents of this southwestern Utah community for an explosion which shattered an estimated 100 windows.

One man was knocked down; a woman was cut in the face when a storm door shattered; a boy was hit by flying debris. There were no serious injuries.

There was no official explanation for the blast, in late afternoon yesterday. Most speculation was, however, that it was caused by a jet plane breaking the sound barrier. Many residents said they saw a jet plane in the area during the afternoon.

Original Eyeglass
Hearing Aid

The "LISTENER" by Oticon is a blessing to those who dislike old-fashioned hearing aids.

The "LISTENER" has no cords or attachments of any kind; no wires; no button in your ear; no blobs behind or below the ear. No clothing noise. Only a tiny transparent tube leads to the ear canal. A complete hearing aid concealed in the eyeglass frame and fitted with your proper lenses.

Finals Today In Selecting Mrs. Maryland

Two County Women
Vie With Hagerstown
Homemaker For Title

Three homemakers are competing in Hagerstown today for the title of "Mrs. Maryland" and the right to represent the state in the national finals at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in May.

Mrs. Edwin Eckhart of Frostburg and Mrs. Nelson Keyes, Lonaconing, will vie with Mrs. Eisinger, Hagerstown.

In the course of today's contest, the competing homemakers will be judged on the basis of a full-course dinner which they will prepare and serve, and on sewing and ironing. They will be allowed 90 minutes in which to cook and serve their family's favorite dinner.

"Mrs. Maryland" will be crowned at the Alexander Hotel by Hagerstown's mayor, Winslow Burhans at a dinner this evening being given jointly by the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company and the Hagerstown Gas Company. Last year's "Mrs. Maryland", Mrs. W. Ardell Haines of Cumberland, will also be present at the crowning.

Judges in today's contest are: Mrs. Esther LaRose, home demonstration agent for Augusta County, Staunton, Va.; Mrs. Ruth Melmbresse, home economist, Monsanto Corporation, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Nan Rolph, home economist and department manager for Woodward and Lothrop department store, Washington, D. C.; Miss Betty Stewart, home economics instructor at West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., and Mrs. Marilyn Stutz, home economics instructor at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The new "Mrs. Maryland" will win the trip to the national "Mrs. America" finals in Florida for herself and her husband, a cash prize of $150, a $100 U. S. Savings Bond, a place setting of sterling silver table service, a portable electric sewing machine and other prizes.

The homemaker selected to reign as "Mrs. America" will receive gifts worth thousands of dollars, including a 1957 DeSoto automobile, a complete new Freedom gas kitchen and laundry, and a $1,000 all portrait of herself done by portrait artist, Paul Orlin.

Youth Jailed For Damaging Local Meters

Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday afternoon sentenced a local boy to the Maryland Training School for Boys in Juvenile Court after the youth was involved in smashing parking meters.

The 15-year-old youth was "graduated" from the institution last June and Magistrate Baron said all went well until a few weeks ago when the lad started smashing meters to pick up a few pennies.

Det. Thomas See and Officer John W. Snyder presented the state's side, while Thomas N. Berry, local attorney, represented the boy.

Magistrate Baron said the boy admitted to police he broke four meters on Cumberland Street Sunday morning, had broken two others on Washington Street and was implicated in a similar case on Salem Street.

Net proceeds from the four broken meters was 30 cents, police said, but damage was estimated at $240.

Court officials termed the boy "very likeable" and one of the prize wards of the court. After he returned from the training school, he was given a free membership in Central YMCA, and received a free hike from the police. His family is on relief.

Risk Strategy

EVERYBODY knows that the Russians are tough customers, that the Cold War is a tough proposition whether fought on the military or the economic front, and that we have to be tough in standing up against all this. None of us should, therefore, be surprised that Secretary of State Dulles or President Eisenhower himself, or other top officials of this government, take calculated risks as they seek to assure this country and its Western friends the upper hand in the continuing struggle with communism. In his new biography of Dulles, John R. Beal, diplomatic correspondent for Time magazine, declares that the secretary took such a risk last summer when he withdrew an American offer to help finance the so-called high dam at Aswan, Egypt.

PRESIDENT Nasser of Egypt then was playing America off against Russia on the issue, and Dulles' aim was to call the Soviet hand in the Cold War to expose Kremlin aid proposals as basically fraudulent. This objective may have been achieved, but the withdrawal had an explosive byproduct—Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal, which played a key part in building Middle East tensions to the point of violence last fall. A good many so-called observers say Nasser intended to take the canal sooner or later anyway. So we cannot say with any assurance that Dulles should not have taken the risk he did. What some are saying, as was said more than a year ago when other blunt disclosures of Dulles' "risk strategy" were made in a life magazine article, is that for a diplomat, the secretary is perhaps too brutally direct in laying out his tactics.

BEAL IS SAID to have had a number of personal interviews with him in preparing his book. The language is, of course, his. But the ideas seem clearly to be the secretary's. And his frankness inevitably has produced reactions ranging from shock to mild alarm in certain capitals and to some extent at home. Open-handed diplomacy is admirable. It is another thing, in effect, to invite everybody into the diplomatic planning room and show the wheels behind the wheels. The display often frightens our friends, as we might be troubled if we heard some of their behind-the-scenes thinking. Furthermore, enough of this kind of talk and we may have no surprises left to spring on our Communist adversaries.

Ship In Peril

THE BUDGET argument in Washington deals with proposed federal outlays for the year which will begin next July 1. But in case anyone imagines the government is running a "tight ship" economically in the current year, the latest payroll figures will dispel the illusion. According to Democratic Senator Byrd of Virginia, a veteran economy watchdog, the U. S. payroll for civilian workers hit one billion dollars in January, the highest monthly total in history. The figure represented a gain of 53 million dollars from the previous month, and compares with 923 million last July at the outset of this federal fiscal year. Furthermore, the indications are that the February payroll may be even higher than January. What we spend next year is a legitimate concern as the budget shapes up. But so is what we are shelling out now. Senate Majority Leader Johnson's call to the administration for a "cost conscious" drive to curb present spending is one that ought to ring loud and clear down the departmental corridors.

Honoring Lafayette

ALTHOUGH the 200th anniversary of the birthday of our great Revolutionary hero, the French Marquis de Lafayette, will not occur till September 6, plans are already well advanced for the celebration. A feature which, it is thought, would have especially pleased Lafayette is the raising of a three-million-dollar fund to bring French students to the United States. The Lafayette Fellowship Fund announces that the Ford Foundation has pledged the first million, on condition that the rest be raised by public subscription. It is hoped to bring ten students to this country each year. Such a movement of young people, at the most open-minded period of their lives, should do much to strengthen the traditional friendship with France, which of late has shown signs of weakening.

Slow Motion Now Seems Rule In Congress

WASHINGTON—Congress this year offers a perfect replica of slow motion.

Why is it that, after over three months in session, it has completed action on only three measures of any consequence—the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine, extension of corporation and estate tax rates for another 16 months, and additional appropriations for the Small Business Administration?

The sad truth is that "modern" Republicans and Democrats in Congress are firmly under the control of the old-fashioned, traditional wings of each party—the "unmodern" Republicans and Democrats. The latter are more numerous and are well entrenched in the seats of power in Congress.

PARTY LINES are fluid. Sometimes there seems to be no reason for the party divisions. But generally the pattern most clear is that of the old, familiar coalition of conservative Southern Democrats and Taft Republicans concentrated largely in the Middle West. They form the dominant party in important matters, as they have off and on for the last two decades.

The "modern" Republicans, a minority in Congress, look to President Eisenhower to provide President and dramatic leadership. But, for the most part, they have been disappointed. Similarly, the "modern" brand of Democrats, who come mostly from outside the South but have a few Southern allies on some issues, lack leadership in Congress and outside.

WE HEAR the President demands Federal aid for school construction, and we hear other Administration spokesmen, as well as "modern" Democrats, calling for civil rights legislation. We hear the President speak up for continued foreign military and economic aid at a high level.

And what of such measures as extension of coverage of the minimum wage law, Federal aid for voluntary health group insurance, housing and slum clearance, and such measures espoused by the President, by "modern" Republicans and by a considerable segment of the Democrats in Congress?

They still wait, and may keep on waiting.

We find two factors that contribute to the diminishing influence of the President with his party in Congress. One is the loosening of his grip caused by the knowledge that he can't run again. The other is his failure to work hard and continuously at enlisting support among "modern" Republicans in Congress for his program and giving them his personal encouragement by a show of personal interest.

HE NEVER has worked hard at this part of his job. That is left chiefly to Sherman Adams, his assistant. The Adams influence shows itself most dramatically in negative form.

One recent case was the way he lined up Republicans in the House to defeat the Patman resolution for a Congressional investigation of monetary policy, including the "hard money" policy of the Administration.

Another was his success in lining up enough Republicans over the telephone to kill the Fulbright amendment for small business tax relief when the corporation-excess tax extension bill was before the Senate.

Illuminating of what is going on now is the committee "filibuster" against civil rights bills on both sides of the Capitol. That could be broken easily if Republicans wanted to stop these dilatory tactics directed by Southern Democrats. For they have enough votes in both Senate and House committees to join with Northern Democrats to jimmy these measures out of committee and get them onto the floors for action.

FOR THREE weeks now either talkfests by Southern Senators or the absence of a quorum has blocked the attempt of Senator Tom Hennings to get the Senate Judiciary Committee to take up for consideration the civil rights bill which his subcommittee reported favorably to the Judiciary Committee four weeks ago. A quorum didn't show up at Monday's meeting.

The companion measure in the House now is held up in the House Rules Committee. This group is supposed to be merely a traffic policeman to arrange for floor consideration but it has arrogated to itself unusual powers, including pigeonholing or long delay.

ONE OF THE younger Democrats on the committee, Representative Richard Bolling of Missouri, tried to get through a motion Monday to start consideration of the bill by the committee Wednesday, with a final vote a week later. He got the support of two other Democrats, Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts and Ray J. Madden of Indiana, and of one Republican, Hugh P. Scott of Pennsylvania.

But the veteran chairman, Howard Smith, found support in three other Southern Democrats and two Midwestern Republicans to adjourn the committee without action, 6 to 4. Subsequently, Smith announced he would bring up the bill after the Easter recess, which begins April 12. This means some time in late April or early May.

That illustrates the troubles of "modern" Republicans and "modern" Democrats in this Congress.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—This being the Geophysical Year in which we will attempt to hoist an earth satellite into space and receive from it valuable and precious information concerning what lies beyond our envelope of atmosphere, all information funneling in is interesting.

When we can hoist a boastful Russian or two along the way, it is even more interesting.

The Russians—and the Germans—have been claiming credit for the idea of the satellite and for the vast, mystical electronics system which will automate it.

Thanks to Miss Sylvia Kleinman, managing editor of the magazine, "Satellite Science Fiction," we can now tell both the Russians and the Germans to go fly a kite—but not to claim a satellite. One of our boys did it first—and a long, long time ago. His name, don't be too stunned, was and is Edward Everett Hale.

SAM MOSKOWITZ is an editor for this same magazine. Sylvia, and thus it is spelled, knew he was doing some satellite research but was as amazed as you will be when Sam came in and said: "Be all facts and fictions as they may, the cold, hard fact is that Hale was the first human being in world history ever to write about a satellite. This automatically makes him inventor of the idea."

Therefore, an American has the honor and the honor is degrades enough old to quash all pretenders.

THE AUTHOR of "The Man Without a Country" was born in 1822 and died in 1909, was an author and theologian and was one of the early contributing editors of "The Atlantic Monthly," in which and for which he wrote an epochal short novel, about 23,000 words.

It was called "The Brick Moon" and ran in four installments in the last months of 1869 and the first months of 1870. And if the faces of the current editors of The Atlantic Monthly are red, they should be. They should have discovered this fascinating truth for themselves.

In any case, it was Hale's last story for the magazine—but the first story anywhere about an Earth Satellite.

SAM discovered that not only was it the first anywhere in print, but until seven short years ago it was the longest story ever written dealing only with the Earth Satellite theme. Unlike other writers and scientists, Hale didn't push the satellite idea into his story as an adjunct—he devoted, literally, says Sam, every single word of the serial to the subject. That is called planting the American flag on an idea with firmness and irrefutability.

IT MUST BE remembered that in 1869 scientific knowledge of space travel was worse than rudimentary. It belonged almost in an insane category. Even electric power at that time was a novelty. No man in his right mind would indulge in such a project as the accuracy of the science he brought to bear. He was playing around with stuff no one else knew anything about and error was natural.

But its merits as a prophetic work are astounding. What use did Mr. Hale make of his satellite? Much the use, or at least part of the use, the modern world will make of our actual satellite: a reliable means of judging exact longitude for ships at sea.

An artificial moon, the exact distance of which from Earth was known, could be an exact mathematical guide to mariners cursed with having to use the crude and unreliable navigation instruments of 1869.

AND WHY DID Hale suggest brick construction? Because, gropingly, he knew that any metals then at our command and use would have melted under the gigantic acceleration needed to clear the satellite from Earth's drag.

His method of power for it to rise and jump into space was centrifugal force. Rocketry as a propulsive power was not dreamed of then—not even by Hale. And don't laugh at him. As late as 1923 at least one serious scientist also was proposing centrifugal force as the propulsive power.

Hale wrote of an orbit about 4,000 miles from the Earth's surface. He was not too far off in being precisely right.

It is suggested to you, even if you are not an aficionado of science fiction, that you buy "Satellite Science Fiction" on April 18th, publication day, and read for yourself that the Earth Satellite, thanks to Hale, is as American as apple pie.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield might have passed more of a stamp upon Congress if he hadn't gone before it in person but had simply mailed his fist. The situation obviously called for a mailed fist. If it had been brandished under the unlettered noses of the Congressmen, it might have shaken more of the post officiousness out of them post haste. Post officially speaking, that is.

The Postmaster General demanded an additional $47 million to run the post office through June 30, which is the end of the post fiscal year. But apparently he didn't excite them enough with his special delivery. The Congressmen looked at him with their frank and open faces and allowed him only $17 million.

In the post mortem that followed, the Postmaster General registered complaint. He declared that if the rest of the $47 isn't forthcoming he's going to have to curtail mail service to the point that there will be times when neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night will start his couriers on the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

AS WE SAY in philatelic circles, this is no new issue, but if Congress does not give its stamp of approval, it's the public, not the postage, that will take the licking. The P.M.G. declares he's got to have more money because, in the last three administrations, postal business has quintupled. There's more R.F.D. since F.D.R. and he has to have more D.F.R.

"D.F.R.," of course, is federal alphabetese for "Dough For Routes." When the P.M.G. told the M.C.S. he needed more D.F.R. for R.F.D., they gave him a partial O.K. P.D.Q. They also let him know that they'd probably kick in with $30 million more in a few days if he'd only refrain from mail boxing their ears in the postage die interim.

Most Members of Congress are loath to admit it, but the truth is that they are a bit awed by the head postman. Possibly it is the impressiveness of the title "Postmaster General."

The lawmakers, however, might not find the title quite as awesome if they knew their history. This is little known, but the Postmaster General is not the real head of the Post Office Department.

The Postmaster General is only a clerk! Under the law, the real Postmaster General is the President. The holder of the title is technically just a very lowly subordinate.

The job was originally set up this way for a reason which was once extremely cogent. The Post Office Department was organized under the Constitution, in 1789, and more permanently established in 1794. At that time the locating of post offices and post roads had paramount political importance. It was felt it should be entrusted only to the President.

NOTHING HAS EVER been done to change this legally. In the beginning, the Postmaster General was regarded as an N.S.V.P. (Not So Very Important Person). George Washington thought the office was too insignificant to entitle the holder of it to a place in the cabinet. It was not until 1829 that the Postmaster General was given a place in the cabinet.

In latter years, particularly under the Democrats, almost all Postmasters General have been also political leaders of the regnant party. But the first general postal law to be promulgated on this side of the Atlantic prohibited "political agitation on the part of postal officers."

Ike, you tell Arthur to quit his agitating!

By perhaps no astonishing coincidence, the Post Office Department mails out more press releases and press-agency propaganda than any other agency of the executive branch of government. At singing its own praises, it is topped only by Congress.

I don't suppose this will win me friends in either branch of government, but the post office deficit could be sharply reduced by making the Postmaster General and the Congressmen pay for their own mail.

Fireworks Expected Over Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The annual battle over foreign aid begins soon when President Eisenhower's program for the next fiscal year goes to Congress. Because of the great economy drive this year, the battle may be more bitter than usual.

The President's budget message in January indicated a request for $5 billion dollars. Later, the President cut this to $4.4 billion—2.9 for military assistance and 1.5 for economic aid. These figures might be cut even lower before going to Congress. On the other hand, new Middle East programs might increase them.

Last year President Eisenhower asked for a $4.8-billion dollar foreign aid program. Congress appropriated 3.7 billion—two billions for military assistance, 1.7 billion for economic aid.

The program will be a worse whipping boy than usual this year. Congress will consider it after having failed to make decisive cuts on appropriation bills considered earlier.

VOTERS BACK home, more interested in federal aid for local schools, highways or farm relief—give support to this resentment against spending so many U.S. tax dollars overseas.

Demands now vary from Sen. Bill Knowland's hope for a billion-dollar cut to Sen. Dick Russell's wish that all foreign aid could be abolished.

William J. Donahue Heads County Teachers

William J. Donahue, a member of the faculty of Allegany High School, was elected president of the Allegany County Teachers Association at the annual election meeting held last night at Carver School. Donahue succeeds Edward Meconi, who presided at the meeting.

Elected to serve with Donahue are Hayes Chambers, vice president; Miss Frances Crist, secretary; Mrs. Patricia Wilson, assistant secretary; Earl Brain, treasurer.

Elected to the legislative committee were Dr. W. Ardell Haines of Allegany High School, and Allan Weatherholt of Fort Hill High School. Two members of this committee of six retire each year.

The welfare committee, of which six were elected, included

Christine Alderton, Margaret Beck, Margaret Doak, Glenn Hanna, Roy Pepper and Robert Thomas.

The public relations committee members elected are Joyce Fike, representing primary teachers; Amy Meek, representing intermediate teachers; Rosalie Shobe, representing junior high teachers; Anna McFuckie, representing senior high teachers; and Paul Arbogast, representing principals.

The ethics committee elected includes John Nickel and Myra Taylor, elementary teachers representatives; Oberlin Chaney and James White, junior high teachers; and Eugene Harris and Dr. Wayne Hill, senior high representatives.

The teachers voted two amendments to their constitution. One raises the annual dues from $2 to $4 a year; and the other created the ethics committee as a standing committee of the organization.

Milton C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teacher Association, reviewed the history of the MSTA legislative program. He said he still hopes Gov. McKeldin will sign the teacher pay raise bill and believes he will. However, if he doesn't, Raver assured the teachers that the measure has enough support in the House and Senate to override the veto. Net effect of this, since the bill carries a tax provision, Mr. Raver said, "is merely to delay the proposed $400 increase one year."

Raver told the teachers MSTA is pleased with the results of its efforts in the General Assembly in behalf of teachers and education. He cited several things he termed accomplishments in the five-year program to date, and assured the teachers that the proposal to attempt to provide adequate pensions for retiring teachers will be one of the future major objectives.

Raver was questioned at length by a number of the teachers present. Several challenged the "strategy" of the MSTA, and a number questioned "just how much has really been accomplished." Several pointed out that if the pay raise bill is not signed by the governor, the teachers have nothing to show for the MSTA "efforts and strategy."

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The management of the International Airport here gives away an estimated 2,000 gardenias daily to women entering and leaving the terminal building.

Schedule Of Criminal Trials To Start In Court Here Monday

Criminal trials will start Monday in Circuit Court with two local men facing manslaughter charges.

The opening criminal trial involves a fatal accident which occurred on March 22 on Virginia Avenue near Fifth Street in which a local woman was killed when struck by a car.

Clarence Junior Northercraft, 29, a B&O brakeman, was indicted for manslaughter by auto by the April term grand jury. Killed in the accident was Mrs. Matilda A. Blaine, 73, of 417 Springdale Street, who was dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital.

Also scheduled for Monday is the case of the state versus

Oscar W. Simmons, who was indicted on a morals charge.

On Tuesday morning another manslaughter by auto trial is scheduled to begin. Thomas A. Darr will go on trial in connection with the death of Carl Price McDonald, who was killed in an auto accident December 15, 1956.

Darr was indicted by the January grand jury.

Also scheduled for Tuesday is the trial of Melvin L. Hartman, indicted on a morals charge.

The first U.S. president to travel through the Panama Canal was Franklin D. Roosevelt, aboard the U.S.S. Houston on Oct. 16, 1933.

Honest Mayor

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Mayor C. H. (Herb) Meek doesn't fix traffic tickets for anybody.

He made sure plenty of witnesses saw him pay a $1 fine for parking his car in a restricted zone.

State Utility Association Plans Meeting

The Maryland Utilities Association will hold its annual business conference Friday, at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore.

The association, organized in 1922, is composed of representatives of public utilities in Maryland and the District of Columbia. C. Oscar Berry, general counsel, Washington Gas Light Company, and president of the association, will report on the activities of the Allegheny County Board of Education during the past year. Berry said the annual election of officers and directors for the coming year will also take place.

Among the utilities officials from Baltimore who are serving as officers or directors are: Austin F. Penn and Charles P. Crane, Baltimore Gas and Electric Company; Dale W. Barran, Baltimore Transit Company; W. Griffin Morrel, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland.

Speakers who will address the conference and their topics include: Austin L. Roberts, Jr., general solicitor, National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners; "Utility Regulation: Its Purpose, Problems and Prospects"; Edward R. Trappell, director, Nuclear Energy Division, Bozell & Jacobs, Inc.; "Atomic Power—Where Do We Stand and Where Are We Going?" Lawrence L. Ellis, parting, Booz, Allen, Hamilton, "Developing the E. Q. of Your Organization."

About 500 members and guests are expected to attend the annual dinner Friday night. Thursday dinner in Nashville, Tenn., Executive vice president, Southern States Industrial Council, will be speaker and discuss "Signs of the Times."

New Bruce High School Expected To Open Soon

When students of Bruce High School in Westernport return to classes after the Easter holidays, they will probably resume their studies in a new high school building which recently was completed on land in Greene's Addition.

At least it is the hope of officials, will report on the organization's activities during the past year. Berry said the annual election of officers and directors for the coming year will also take place.

Soviet Engineers Design New Turbine

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet engineers have designed a new type radial dash axial turbine for installation in new Siberian hydro-electric stations, the Central Research Institute of Technology and Machine Building has announced.

At Bratsk a 200,000 kilowatt unit will be installed and at Krasnoyarsk a 300,000 kilowatt generator, scientists reported. Special problems not only of design but of transportation were involved in these projects because the giant generators with a diameter of 7.5 meters was too large to be carried by railway.

Wills Admitted For Probation

Two wills were admitted to probate Tuesday in Orphans Court.

The will of Steve Plosz, Westport, who died March 16, named Robert Kalbaugh, Westport, as executor. He posted bond of $2,000.

A step-son, Daniel Syroni and his wife, Veronica, and their children were named beneficiaries.

The will of William R. Burns, city, who died April 3, named Dorothy V. Ambrose, a niece, and Willard R. Ambrose, a nephew, as executors of the estate. They posted bond of $1,000.

Beneficiaries of the will include the brothers and sisters of the deceased and a number of nieces and nephews.

County Delegates Attending Youth Legislature

The annual Maryland Model and government award at a joint session of the Legislature convened today in session on Saturday.

Miss Barbara Ann Mann, Allegheny County High School student, will serve as president of the Senate. She is the first young lady in the Central Atlantic Area to fill such a position.

Other positions filled by county delegates include chaplain of the House, William R. Brown, Port of Baltimore; assistant clerk of the House, Donald Lee Turley, Allegheny; and chaplain of the House, Woody Noel of Baltimore.

Among the 14 bills being sponsored by the Allegheny County delegates are acts to require all motor vehicle operators to have liability insurance; lower the voting age from 21 to 18; provide for the renewal of motor vehicle operator's licenses; require all Maryland theaters to have a set price for teen-agers; and "an act to create drag strip legislation for the State of Maryland."

Allegheny County has had three boy governors since the Model Legislature began in 1944. John Diuguid, city, was governor in 1950; John M. Gornall, city, 1952; and Joel Downey, Frostburg, 1954.

Tri-Towns Endorses County United Fund Plan

A group of residents of the Tri-Towns met last night and adopted a resolution supporting the County United Fund. The action was taken at a meeting of some two dozen leaders meeting at the Westernport Tea Room. Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the committee, presided. The group, representing business and organizations of Westernport, Luke and Pledmont, expressed the hope that adjoining areas of Mineral County will join the fund. Plans were formulated for a meeting of operating committees of the United Fund organization next Tuesday when, Ritchie said, admissions, public relations, meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company to discuss the formation of a UP chapter. Representatives of labor and management will attend. Warnings devices on early automobiles included bells, bulb horns, sirens and whistles operated by the vehicle's exhaust.

Young Girl Badly Burned In Unusual Double Tragedy

SALISBURY — Stephanie Masimore, 5, was in fair condition at Peninsula General Hospital today with second and third degree burns suffered during a strange double tragedy.

The girl was burned on the right arm, chest and back Tuesday while her mother, Mrs. Aubrey Lee Webster, was assisting a next-door neighbor whose house was on fire.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Webster (no relation) was wrecked by the fire, causing an estimated $8,000 damage. The house was located at Mt. Vernon, a small fishing town about 25 miles from here.

Authorities said Stephanie's mother had gone next door to give Mrs. Nathan Webster some nerve medicine. While the mother was gone, the girl climbed on a chair in attempt to put some bread in a toaster.

The child's cowgirl suit caught fire when she brushed against a pilot light in a stove. She put out the flames at a bathroom sink, but most of her clothes had been burned off by the time her mother returned.

Church To Show Religious Film

A public showing of the film, "Behold His Glory," will be made today at 7 p. m. at Emmanuel Methodist Church, according to Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor.

Rev. Mr. Grove has announced the list of services for Holy Week, beginning Sunday when the sacrament of baptism will be administered. Services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in preparation for Holy Communion, at the same time Thursday when communion will be administered, and at the same time on the following day when Good Friday services will be conducted.

The junior and senior choirs will sing at the Easter Sunday morning services.

Juvenile Crime Said Increasing

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Crime by juveniles is on the increase in Salisbury and Police Chief William Chatham says parents obviously aren't spending enough time with their children.

Chatham said crimes by persons 18 and under increased 75 per cent in 1956 over the previous year, and 19 juveniles were arrested during the first three months of this year.

"People don't have time to talk to each other anymore," said the chief. "It interferes with their television."

Difference

Weighted silk can be distinguished from pure-silk by the cause the former has a rustle which is heard easily, while unweighted silk makes no sound when it is moved.

Democrat Advisory Unit Selects New Director

CHARLES TYROLER II

Fish Foods

Although goldfish prefer live food, such as flies, mosquito larvae and earthworms, they also will eat scrambled egg, chopped lettuce, boiled spinach and even ground dog biscuit.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The controversial Democrat Advisory Council was put on an operational footing today with selection of Charles Tyroler II as its executive director.

The appointment of Tyroler, 41-year-old specialist in public and industrial relations and a native New Yorker now living in Bluemont, Va., was announced by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Tyroler will serve on a full-time basis and be responsible for all operations of the council's staff, yet to be organized. His salary was not announced.

The council, set up last November at the suggestion of the party's Executive Committee, consists of the 14 Executive Committee members plus nine others, including Adlai E. Stevenson, former President Truman, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Democratic congressional leaders refused to join the group, but said they would be willing to consult with members from time to time. Sponsors of the council, obviously displeased at times with the party's Southern leadership in Congress, said it would try to make the party "more responsive and more responsible to its members and to the public."

The Democratic National Committee formally approved the council's creation at a meeting in San Francisco Feb. 15.

Butler said today the council will "develop and present programs" to the party and its leadership. He said it will be a "vehicle for rallying national support behind constructive programs and for organizing and giving voice to opposition to unwise programs which illserve the national interest."

Butler added the council also will concern itself with "important intraparty" problems.

Tyroler, a graduate of the University of Chicago, has served in the Defense Department as a public opinion specialist and director of the Office of Manpower Supply. He left the department in 1953 to become a business consultant in New York, specializing in public and industrial relations.

A former assistant director of the National Planning Assn., he set up the schedule for the campaign last year of Sen. Kefauver of Tenn., Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

Girl Scouts Given First Class Badges

Judith Menges and Sandra Sonner, members of Girl Scout Troop 13 of Johnson Heights School, were presented first class badges at a special ceremony a recent evening at the school.

Mrs. C. E. Howell, program chairman, who presented the awards, said the girls majored in homemaking, earning badges for cooking, housekeeping, sewing and good grooming. Other badges were for work in nature, outdoor and community life fields.

Police Probing Secretary Death

SALISBURY (AP)—A ruling on the death of a 22-year-old stenographer is being withheld while the investigation continues.

Police Chief William J. Chatham said Mrs. Hilda Dunn, mother of a 3-year-old daughter, was found in her apartment yesterday, shot near the heart. A .22 caliber rifle lay nearby.

Police found the body after a friend of Mrs. Dunn reported her missing.

Stolen Station Wagon Identified With Ease

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Police had little trouble locating a station wagon stolen in downtown Milwaukee.

The vehicle is the staff wagon of a local radio station. It was painted green, white, orange and brown, and well-decorated with the station's call letters.

The thief later parked the car in a west side residential garage and fled.

Bricklayers On PPG Job Again

Local 6, Bricklayers Union, has reached an agreement involving brick work at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch.

Harry Hinkle, president of the Building and Construction Trades, said the bricklayers have agreed to extend the existing rates at the plant until May 1 to conform with the contract dates of other crafts.

Starting May 1 the bricklayers will receive $3.25 per hour, Hinkle said.

Brotherly Love

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Two Methodist ministers were jarred by their first meeting here. Their autos collided head-on. Afterwards, the Rev. Robert W. Lewis, 40, and the Rev. Eddie Cook Whitworth, 67, shook hands and each agreed to pay for the damage to his car.

McKeldin Backers Urge Him To Run For Senate

BALTIMORE (P) — McKeldin-booster are still hoping the Republican governor will run for the U. S. Senate in 1958.

Sen. Phoebeus (R-Somerset), State Senate minority leader, told an advertising club luncheon here yesterday he believes the governor "will be on the ticket next November."

Phoebeus later explained he was talking about the November, 1958, election and said he personally believes the governor may be a candidate.

McKeldin's second term as governor expires next year and the constitution bars him from a third term. Phoebeus said he still believed there was a possibility McKeldin will seek Republican nomination to the U. S. Senate now held by Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg.

McKeldin has said he will not oppose Beall for the job, and Beall has indicated he was not interested in running for governor in 1958.

Phoebeus indicated, in remarks to newsmen, that he thought there was still a chance the switch in offices might be effected. "It would certainly give the party a strong ticket," he said.

Memorial Service Held

A memorial service was held Sunday at the chapel at Penn State University for Miss Anne C. Elder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elder, who was fatally injured in an auto crash May 5, 1956.

Miss Elder was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Christie Elder, 807 Bedford Street, and was a member of the Class of 1957 at Penn State.

Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, university chaplain, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. John P. Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church here. Miss Barbara Nichols, of this city, a student at the university, also participated in the service.

Trouble Spots Noted In Quarterly City Report

The City of Cumberland completed the third quarter of its fiscal year March 31, with $7,961,499.62 uncollected. Payments are being withheld by the State Roads Commission pending the settlement of two items connected with the Frederick Street improvement project.

Another trouble spot is the city's share of state racing income. The levy included $40,000 from this source and payments total $41,436.29. Gibson has been informed the money is "all in."

Most other sources of revenues seemed to be coming in on schedule, and one, the tax levy, was over.

Collections on the tax levy totaled $1,178,695.68, which was $1,395.68 above the amount levied upon $74,322.536 of assessable property.

Spending for city operations totaled $989,879.82 on March 31, or 70.5 of the $1,404,826.25 levied to maintain the services offered by the city. Par is 75 per cent.

Most departments seemed to be living within their budgets and some may have some funds to turn in on June 30, when the fiscal year ends.

The more turned in, the better chance the city will have to operate normally during the next fiscal year.

To date, the city has received $28,500.38 of an anticipated $90,000 from gas and oil taxes, leaving $61,499.62 uncollected.

Potomac State ROTC Men Name Women Sponsors

KEYSER — Four freshman women, Misses Ann Phillips, Donalene Kelly, Mary Ann Leyland and Joan Harris, have been selected by men of the ROTC as women sponsors at Potomac State College for the coming year.

This year's sponsors were Misses Elrose Tibbets, Dorothy Yost, Barbara Haines and Frances Mount.

Women so honored made their first appearance at the noon formation of the corps today. They wore the capes and caps significant of their positions.

Miss Phillips, a medical science major, is from Philadelphia. She has membership in the Singers, Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority and is secretary-treasurer of the Freshman Class.

Also from Philadelphia is Miss Kelly, a member of Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority and the Singers. She is a candidate for Freshman Belle this year.

Miss Leyland, this year's Campus Cover Girl, is from Elkins where she was maid of honor in last fall's Mountain State Forest Festival. She is a member of Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority and the WAA.

A home economics major, Miss Harris is from Monteville. This year's Freshman Class Belle, she is a member of Kappa Delta Psi sorority.

The annual spring inspection of the Military Science Department will take place Tuesday, May 14. Supervising the team of inspectors will be Col. William J. Daniel, professor of military science and tactics at VPI. Inspection will include the ROTC armory as well as classes while they are in session.

Last year the Potomac State ROTC unit received a high rating from the inspection team.

Vacation Set
The Easter vacation at Potomac State College will begin following the last class next Thursday. Classes will resume on Monday, April 29.

Students are reminded that absences from classes on Wednesday and Thursday before the holidays and Monday and Tuesday following the Easter vacation will constitute double cuts.

Extra time has been added to the recess this year to allow the delegates attending the science convention to use the facilities of the college.

Ball Scheduled
"A Colton Tail Ball" has been selected as the theme for the annual Easter program co-sponsored by Phi Kappa Omega fraternity and Kappa Delta Psi sorority of Potomac State College Saturday in the college auditorium. Music for dancing will be furnished by Art Shaffer and his seven-piece orchestra from Cumberland.

A highlight of the dance will be the crowning of the king and queen of Easter who will be presented before intermission. The semi-formal Easter Ball is a closed affair for members of the sponsoring groups and their invited guests.

Paul Rice is general chairman, assisted by William Landis, Eric Core, Ronald Walker, Thomas Price and Samuel Oelschlaeger.

Westernport Council Hears Grand Jury Report On Tree

WESTERNPORT — A letter from State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher of Cumberland, calling attention to a specified section of the April grand jury report, was read at the regular meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Commissioners last evening.

The grand jury called attention to a tree on Route 155 near Bruce High School where several accidents have occurred, including a fatality. It was requested that the tree be removed by the town.

State Roads Commission or some other agency and report to the October grand jury what action had been taken.

The ground on which the tree is located is owned by Horace P. Whitworth Sr., attorney for the town. The town called Whitworth's attention to the matter and requested permission to remove the tree.

Whitworth, in denying the request, stated in a letter that it would be more hazardous if the tree was removed due to the incline. A second letter was ordered sent to Whitworth, again asking permission to remove the tree.

The deadline for the purchase of garbage cards for 1957 was set for May 1. Persons failing to display cards by that date will not have their garbage collected. The town clerk announced 570 garbage cards have been purchased out of an approximate 1,000 users.

A letter of commendation was ordered sent to Marshall Metz, 14, by the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport. Metz, a Bruce High School student, saved a Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Muir, Franklin, from drowning in the Georges Creek last Sunday afternoon.

Ralph McIntyre and Herbert R. Alexander discussed the new zoning ordinance with town officials. Commissioner May L. Will reported that it would take 400 feet of eight-inch sewer pipe at Boundary Alley near Front Street to the vicinity of Waverly Street Bridge. The matter was ordered put on the calendar when the budget is prepared for the next fiscal year in June.

Will also reported he had conferred with Mrs. Rose Walsh, Potomac Street, relative to damages to her fence by a machine digging a ditch for the town. He was authorized to make a settlement with her.

A letter from the building committee recommended the approval of the abridged building code prepared by the Building Officials Conference of America Inc.

Rotarians Tour Plant

FROSTBURG — Frostburg Lions Club members were taken on a tour of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company last night, following a dinner served by the ladies of the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church of Westernport.

Thomas Poland of the Westernport Lions Club explained what the members would see when they went to the plant. The tour was arranged by John Malcolm, Barton, a member of the Frostburg Lions Club. Poland, Harry Miller and Garland Cheshire of the Westernport Lions Club and employees of the paper company, acted as guides on the tour.

Ernest Cowell, also an employee of the company, escorted one of the groups on the trip.

The tour began at the woodyard where thousands of tons of rough cut logs are stacked ready for the mill. They were then taken through the washers and the chippers where the logs are shredded and dumped into immense vats of caustic soda which reduces them to pulp. From here the visitors were taken through the paper forming and calendaring departments and finally shown how the paper is cut, wrapped and made ready for shipment to all parts of the world.

Arthur Hoffa Jr., Barton; Andrew Shaw, Moscow; Thomas Jackson, James Flanigan and James Spitznas Jr. of Frostburg were guests of the club on the tour.

Butler Trial Still Pending

PIEDMONT — The trial of Howard Butler, 55, who is being held in Mineral County Jail at Keyser on a charge of murder in the December 30 slaying of Mrs. Velma Marie (Greenhorn) Sharon, 43, also of Piedmont, is expected to get underway the first part of May.

Butler, who underwent plastic surgery on his left jaw at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, was indicted for murder by the grand jury of the January term of court.

Donald C. Holt, prosecuting attorney for Mineral County, said yesterday it is expected that Butler's trial will be scheduled for the first part of May.

However, no definite date has been set but the case will probably be placed on the court calendar this month by Judge Ernest M. See.

Meanwhile, the April grand jury will convene in Keyser Tuesday, according to the prosecutor, who said the criminal trials for the term of court will probably begin April 29.

Edward J. Ryan, local attorney, and Joseph Blundon of Keyser are counsel for Butler.

Mrs. Sharon was found dead in the bedroom of Butler's apartment by Police Chief Gene Keyes of Piedmont. Butler was still conscious from wounds and was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser before being removed to Memorial Hospital where he was a patient until February 4.

The second of the new mail schedules will leave Cumberland at 2:15 p. m., arriving in Moorefield by 4:15 p. m. This route returns to Cumberland departing Moorefield at 7:30 p. m., arriving in Cumberland by 9:30 p. m.

A third route will travel only on Sundays and holidays, leaving Cumberland at 5 a. m., arriving in Moorefield at 7:30 a. m., departing from Moorefield at 10:30 a. m. and arriving at Cumberland at 12:30 p. m.

All three of the new mail schedules will carry parcel post packages. All schedules will be stepped up by one hour when Daylight Saving Time becomes effective.

The schedule for mail up South Fork to Milam will leave Moorefield after the mail is worked up from Cumberland about 9:30 a. m., returning to Moorefield at 1:30 p. m.

Meeting Postponed

The April meeting of the Moorefield Parent-Teacher Association will be postponed from Monday to April 22 because of Holy week services in Moorefield churches.

At the meeting, which will be held at 8 p. m. in the graded school auditorium, Mrs. Oldfield will give a dance demonstration with her students.

'High Noon,' Great Movie Western, Sold To TV; 'Playhouse 90' Plans Life Of Dublin's Lord Mayor

Two Garrett Boys Given Jail Terms

14-Year-Olds Must Serve Four Months In Oakland Lockup

Two 14-year-old Oakland boys were sentenced to four months in the Garrett County Jail yesterday afternoon.

Sentence was handed down by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley sitting in Juvenile Court at Oakland. The two boys were found to be delinquent minors. The other boys, involved in the same case, were placed on probation for two years. All four entered guilty pleas.

The Garrett County sheriff's office said the two boys sent to the jail have been placed in quarters separate from adult prisoners. The two boys are the first juveniles ever sentenced to the Garrett County Jail, according to the sheriff's office.

No Objection Raised

W. Dwight Stover, attorney for one of the boys, said that he and E. Ray Jones, who represented the other youth, did not raise any objection to the jail sentence. Stover said that the law states "that if a child is confined in a jail he must be placed in a room separate from adult inmates."

Stover also said that the judge "shall determine if the case is within his jurisdiction and determine whether to place the child with a private or public institution or agency."

Sheriff Edward R. Muir of Allegany County said that no juvenile has ever been sentenced to the county jail here. Since the juvenile detention quarters were provided at the County Infirmary in June of 1949 all boys and girls under 18 years of age have been cared for there until they have been tried in Juvenile Court.

The youths were apprehended last week by Oakland City Police while looting the R. and P. Firestone Store in Oakland of $1,112.24 in merchandise.

Caught Loading Truck

Officer Porter DeWitt caught the two boys as they were loading the stolen articles into a pickup truck they had taken earlier.

State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt presented the state's case at yesterday's hearings.

During the Firestone robbery the boys took nine guns, several of them high powered rifles; 37 boxes of .22 calibre shells, seven boxes of 16-gauge shotgun shells, 10 boxes of 12-gauge shotgun shells, 24 boxes of high powered rifle bullets, two radios, three rifle telescopes, watches, flashlights, pocket knives, hunting knives, fishermen's hats and other items.

Admit Other Robberies

During questioning at the sheriff's office the youths admitted nine other robberies in Oakland over a period of several weeks. The pair also reported two other boys had been involved in a few of the breaking and enterings.

The robberies occurred at Englander Pharmacy, Browning's Hardware Store, Hub's Hardware Shop, Carroll's Sport Shop, Western Auto Accessories Store, Snouse's Store, Oakland Pharmacy and the Oakland Radio and Electric Company.

Besides stealing the pickup truck, the two boys also admitted stealing two automobiles for "joy rides." They told authorities they would steal the cars, steal gasoline and dealers plates and then drive throughout the Oakland area before returning them to the lots.

Somerset Bus Runs Resumed

The Somerset Bus Company went back into service today for the first time since December 17 when its drivers went out on strike.

The firm operates buses from Somerset to Pittsburgh, Johnstown and Cumberland.

The management announced the schedule will remain the same as it was before the strike. The contract for the drivers represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was effected with management.

Service will be partially curtailed for some time between Somerset and Grantsville.

Teacher Pay Bill Unsigned By Governor

Action Is Expected Next Week; About 300 Measures Become Law

BALTIMORE (AP)—School teachers and cigarette smokers will have to wait until next week to find out what Gov. McKeldin plans to do about a bill involving them both.

The governor, Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) and House Speaker John Luber (D-Balto 5th) put their names on 295 new Maryland laws yesterday, but House Bill 253 was not among them.

That's the bill calling for raises averaging $400 for Maryland public school teachers and a State cigarette levy of 3 cents a pack to foot the $10,400,000 cost of the program.

Still Undecided
McKeldin said after yesterday's bill signing he still has not made up his mind definitely about the measure, but will act on it sometime next week. He plans to sign another batch of legislation Monday. Approximately 133 bills await his signature or veto before he leaves next weekend on a trip to Africa and Europe.

Also among unfinished business are measures to require a renewal of drivers licenses, create from motorists and insurance companies a fund for payment of unsatisfied claims and judgments against uninsured motor vehicle owners, repeal of the 1955 compact with Virginia and regulation by Maryland of Virginia fishermen in the Potomac River, and a road tax on interstate trucks equivalent to Maryland's 6-cents per gallon gasoline tax.

There has been strong speculation ever since the matter came up in the Legislature that McKeldin would veto any teacher pay raise bill not calling for subdivisions to carry a share of the expense. The governor has dropped several hints that he would do this.

Goldstein Urges Signing
Senate President Goldstein publicly urged the governor to sign the pay raise bill at an advertising club luncheon yesterday, although he personally dislikes the tobacco tax which would finance it.

Senate Minority Leader Phoebeus (R-Somerset) said he still has talked with him about it before yesterday's bill signing session. "He's going to pray over it," Phoebeus said. "and I'm sure he'll do what he thinks is best for the State."

Most of the other "money" legislation from the 1957 Assembly was disposed of yesterday. The governor signed the State operating budget calling for $360,226,250 to be spent during the fiscal year beginning July 1, a capital improvements program totaling $15,806,100 for State buildings and equipment, and pay raises for State police and tax assessors.

He also signed a bill to abolish the State Industrial Accident Commission and replace it with a Workmen's Compensation Commission made up of five qualified members of the state bar.

Subject To Approval
The new commission will be appointed by the governor next February, subject to approval of the Senate. Four members will draw salaries of $14,000 each and the chairman will receive $14,500.

The bill passed over objections of some Democrats that it would give a "lame-duck" Republican governor political plums to pass out for long-term jobs before he leaves office. McKeldin's second term ends in 1958 and he can't succeed himself.

Among other new laws put on the books yesterday were measures which:

Ban commercial netting of rockfish in the Susquehanna River channel and authorize a special commission study of all phases of the life and supply of rockfish in the tidal waters of Maryland.

Create a 10 million dollar revolving fund from which the State Roads Commission can buy highway rights-of-way well in advance of construction.

Request the SRC to extend Maryland's 12-year roads program by three years (to 1969) to coincide with the federal program.

25 Workers At Kelly To Get Benefits

Retired Employees Declared Eligible For Compensation

The State Employment Security Board in an opinion announced today ruled that 25 retired Kelly-Springfield Tire Company workers were eligible to draw unemployment benefits.

The claimants had retired in February under the terms of the Kelly-Local 28, United Rubber Workers Union, contract that all employees must retire at age 65.

At that time they became eligible for a pension which is entirely subsidized by the company.

Contested By Company

When they applied for unemployment benefits, the company contested the payment and requested a hearing.

The chairman of the board, Robert B. Kimble, set forth his decision with supporting facts.

The other two members of the board, C. H. Berchard Sr. and Joseph P. Healey, filed a concurring opinion in which they agreed with Kimble's decision but for different reasons.

Kimble ruled that the claimants did not leave his employment without good cause within the meaning of Section 5b of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law which was the issue at stake.

Law Repealed

He pointed to a law of the 1937 General Assembly denying benefits to those receiving pensions. This was later repealed after a study that condemned the harshness of this action, which had been an amendment to the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law.

"I must conclude from this that the silence of the statute in connection with this matter is not accidental, but deliberate, and that it was the clear and unmistakable intention of the legislature that the receipt of a pension has absolutely no effect on eligibility for benefits," Kimble ruled.

Kimble declared the second issue is whether or not the company's position that the claimants effectively voluntarily quit work is sound under the law.

Held Not Voluntary

He referred to a New Jersey opinion in a similar case where the ruling was for the claimant. This stated that when an employee must retire at age 65 it is not a voluntary quit.

Berchard and Healey said while disagreeing with Kimble's reasons, that "it is not within the province of the Maryland Employment Security Board to delve into the merits of the retirement system of an employer in order to determine a claimant's eligibility for unemployment insurance benefits. From the facts in this case, we conclude that the claimants became unemployed through no fault of their own and therefore are entitled to benefits."

Presenting the case for the claimants at the hearing held before an examiner were James Stein, president, Joseph V. Burke, secretary, and Stanley E. Zorick, treasurer, all of Local 28, together with Simon F. Reilly, local attorney.

For the company were F. T. Bell, personnel manager, and Harry Nelson, manager of labor relations department.

Men Are Listed

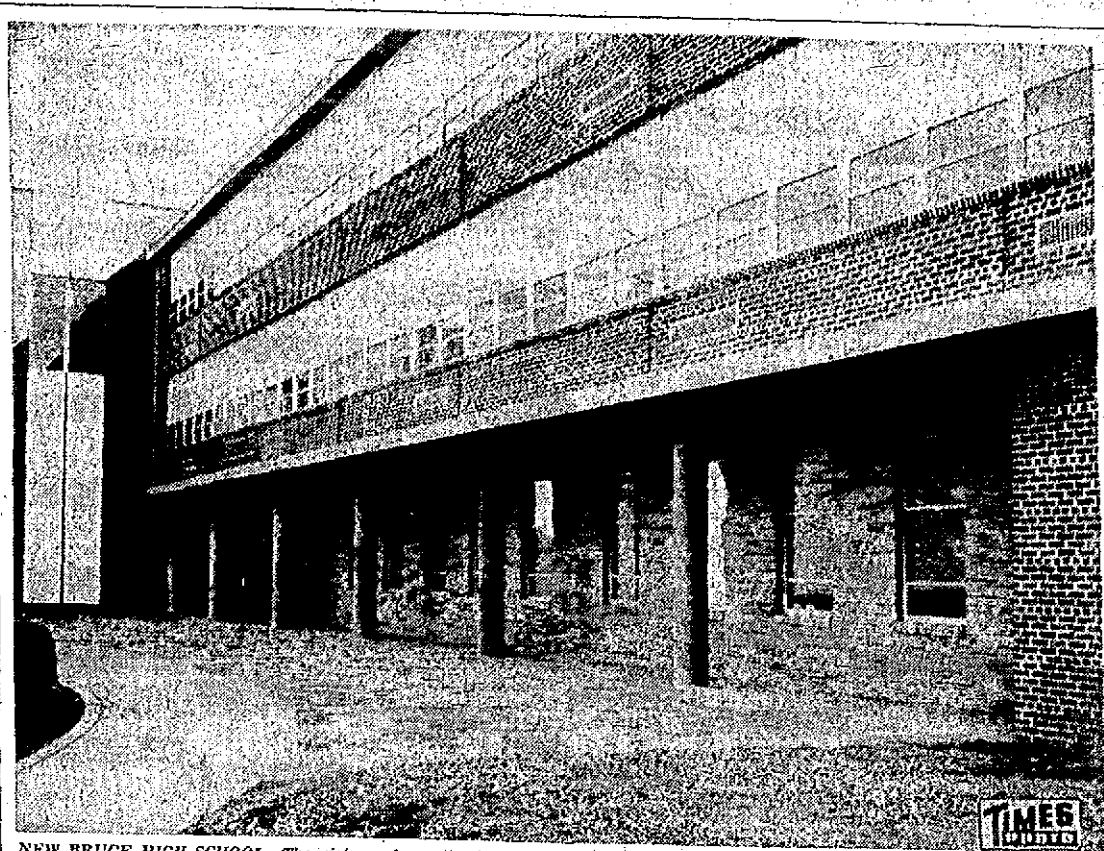

The claimants winning the benefits were Chris L. Pollack, Mt. Savage; Ira D. Ryan, RD 3; Robert C. Pollack, Mt. Savage; George W. Dodge, RD 1; Herman J. Rolley, 719 Patterson Avenue; Isaac C. Spiker, 252 Columbia Street; Albert C. Brant, RD 1; Ridgeley; Claude D. McIntyre, 429 Cumberland Street; Arthur J. Kirtley, 109 East First Street; Edgar P. Kerley, Meyersdale; Leo Leasure, RD 1, Oldtown; Norman N. Kiermier, RD 5; John Parich, 7 Bellevue Street; Tandy M. Powell, Romney; John F. Feeney, 409 Beall Street; Benjamin J. Leydig, RD 1, Hyndman; George L. Durst, 204 Cumberland Street; Willis M. Miller, 656 Fayette Street; Lester I. Barnes, 228 Pear Street; Charles W. Connor, RD 1, Hyndman.

William A. Fazenbaker, 145 Frost Avenue, Frostburg; Howard L. Sutherland, RD 1, Westernport; Charles J. Egan, Midland; John F. Blue, Fort Ashby, and Ralph Barber, RD 1, Frostburg.

Six B&O Cars In Derailment
Six cars of a westbound B&O Railroad freight train derailed early today about 15 miles south-east of Parkersburg. The freight was No. 97. No one was injured. The train, which normally hauls between 90 and 95 cars, was headed for St. Louis.

William Bell of the superintendent's office at Grafton said that the main line was expected to be cleared by noon. The derailment occurred about 8 a. m.

Bell said that there was little delay in railroad traffic as trains were rerouted over a siding in the area. The cause of the accident was not determined.

NEW BRUCE HIGH SCHOOL—The picture shows the front of the new Bruce High School in Westernport which will be placed in operation after the Easter holidays. The building was constructed on three levels. Entrance to the building is at the left.

Band Concert Tomorrow At Fort Hill Hi

Fort Hill's Junior and Senior Bands will present their annual spring band concert, tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The Junior Band will open the program presenting the selections, "Power March" by Bonelli, "Carnival of Roses" by Olivadi, "Precision March" by Haynes, "Village Chimes" by Bennett, "Mambo Jambo," by Prado, and "Concord March" by Alfard, which will feature the Junior Band majorettes.

Highlighting the Senior Band program will be the following selections, "Star Spangled Banner," "March Fete Triumphant," by Olivadi, "American Folk Rhapsody," by Brundman, "Impressario," by Mozart, "Blue Mist," by Osterling, "First Suite in E Flat," by Holst, directed by James Diehl, student director, "Semper Fidelis," by Sousa, "Boogie March," by Moffitt, which will feature a dance routine by the Senior Band majorettes; "Nell the Farmer's Daughter," by Dorr; a novelty number, "Malaguena," by Lecuna, and "Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa.

Solos will be given by Wanda Tate and James Diehl, accompanied by Judy Kompanek.

A string ensemble, under the direction of Miss Pauline Grahl will present the following selections, "Marche Triumphant," by Ellis Levy, "Andante and Rondo," by Pleyel, and "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler.

Chiropractic Group To Meet
The 39th semi-annual convention of the Maryland Chiropractic Association will be held this Saturday and Sunday at the Francis Scott Key Hotel in Frederick.

Dr. Rita Bricker, city, public relations representative for the association, will participate in a panel discussion during the Sunday sessions.

The discussion will be on "The function of public relations," Mrs. G. Frank Malin, city, will serve as toastmistress for a luncheon at noon on Sunday.

Saturday's program will feature a business meeting, lectures, luncheon, social hour, dinner and a dance. Sunday's schedule will include lectures, panel discussions, luncheon and a business meeting.

Frostburg College Play To Be Repeated Tonight
From the time the curtains parted last night to reveal the Great Hall in the castle of Duke Lambert to the final enveloping blackness of Death ending his holiday as a mortal, the current production of Little Theatre at Frostburg State Teachers College sustained a standard of excellence that must be cause for gratification today to all who had a part in this dramatic triumph.

A repeat performance tonight of "Death Takes A Holiday" will be a benefit for the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Top credit for a superb evening in the theatre goes to Dorothy Stone White who directed this difficult and thought-provoking play. The scenic achievement in re-creating the interior of Lambert Castle with a breathtaking view of the outdoors deserves the highest praise, and the costuming is superb. Light, timing and other technical details provide a setting for an acting performance that won an opening night ovation.

James Rankin's portrayal of Prince Sirki (in whose mortal form Death takes a three-day vacation) justifies the confidence placed in him by Miss White when she assigned to him the leading role despite his lack of any previous stage experience.

Intelligently and with subtle nuances Rankin projects the baffling character so coherently that it is believable. There is a relaxed quality about his acting that makes the dramatic moments more effective.

In Suzanne Harrison is epitomized the ideal Grazia. The sensitivity, tenderness and courage of this characterization fulfills every requirement of the part. As her mother Dolores Fabey displays again those qualities that stamp her as one of the most talented actresses ever to appear at Frostburg State.

Outstandingly done is the role of aged Baron Cesarea by Thomas Richards, whose previous acting contributions at Compton Hall have been considered.

Methodist Men Will Hold Program Friday

The Methodist Men of First Methodist Church will hold a combined installation of officers and ladies night celebration Friday at 6:30 p. m. in Central YMCA, according to Charles H. Linaburg, president.

Toastmaster will be Brooke Atkinson. Mrs. E. W. Culp will give the invocation and Mrs. Clark Bittinger, the benediction.

Rev. Randall L. Parsons, pastor of Mt. Savage Methodist Church, will entertain. The men's club of First Methodist Church will present several selections.

Rev. E. W. Culp, pastor of First Methodist, will install the following officers of the club: William A. Deremer, president; Burr James, vice president; Emory Turner, secretary; and Oliver Hansel, treasurer.

Leo Brannon is in charge of arrangements and the ticket committee is comprised of Robert Llewellyn, Hayes Chambers and Andrew Phillips.

SS Benefits Possible At Memorial

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall today announced that the Bureau of Internal Revenue Service has decided that Memorial Hospital here is not an instrumentality of the City of Cumberland government, and that retired employees are therefore eligible to receive Social Security benefits.

The decision, Sen. Beall said, comes after three years of effort by himself and William A. Gunter, president of the board of governors of Memorial Hospital, during which time they requested the Revenue Bureau to reconsider a previous ruling on the status of the institution and its employees.

Under the previous ruling, Sen. Beall said, the hospital was considered to be a city instrumentality, and its employees were ineligible to receive Social Security benefits, although they had contributed $150,000 into the Social Security fund.

The new ruling was reported to Sen. Beall by Justin F. Winkle, assistant commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The senator pointed out that the new ruling will also make Memorial Hospital eligible to qualify for and receive moneys from the Ford Foundation.

Allegany Hi Band Concert Set Friday

The Allegany High School Senior Band will present a concert on Friday at 7:45 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The program, an annual project, will feature six marches and 11 other musical selections. The marches include "The Booster," "Colonel Bogey," "Lights Out March," "Billboard March," "Officers of the Day" and "On The Mall," featuring Ginger Davis on the piccolo.

Solos will be given by Raymond Ogden, trumpet; Marlene Briggs, clarinet; Sheila Fram, flute; Lawrence Shafferman, trombone; and Allen Fisher, baritone.

Another selection, "Rocked In The Cradle Of The Deep," will feature Michael Shaffer on the bass; Charles Diehl, Frederick Samuel and Lawrence Shafferman, trombone trio; Thomas Ward will play "Willow Echoes" on the trumpet.

During the band's presentation of "Nordic Fantasy," Frances Harvey, drum major, will present a solo on the oboe while Allen Emerick will be featured on the clarinet. The majorettes, Lois Lee, Helen Wanless and Marlene Briggs, will present "Dancing Reeds," a clarinet trio.

A trumpet duet, "The Pals," will be presented by Raymond Ogden and John Blake. The band will also present "Csardas," "Morning Noon and Night in Vienna," "Ave Maria," and "Song of India."

Following the concert a dance will be held in the school gymnasium with music provided by the Allegany Dance Band.

Local Man Held On Assault Count

A Cumberland man was apprehended last night in Sunnyside, Calif., by the FBI on a warrant charging him with fleeing Maryland to avoid prosecution for rape.

The man, James Arthur Christman, 31, was indicted by the Allegany County Grand Jury in January.

A warrant was issued by the local state's attorney's office charging Christman with raping a local 13-year-old girl.

FBI Special Agent H. G. Foster of California said Christman was arrested last night and is charged in a federal complaint filed March 18 at Baltimore with fleeing Maryland to avoid prosecution in Cumberland.

Christmas, married and the father of two children, is being held in the San Jose City Jail and will be given a hearing before a United States Commissioner.

Thomas E. Carroll, grand knight, said the affair is open to members and interested men of the area.

Rev. Kilian Krings, OFM, Cap., monastery superior, will serve as retreat master.

Cut Postal Service Here Saves $305

Weekly Saving Only "Drop In Bucket" Of What Might Happen

The curtailment of window service and deliveries scheduled to go into effect Saturday at the Post Office could result in savings of approximately $305 weekly, Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon said this morning.

Emphasizing that the reduction in service and work force depends on what action will be taken tomorrow by the House Appropriation Sub-committee, and House vote Monday, Postmaster Conlon said the estimated savings is but a "drop in the bucket" of what it will be should the embargo of third class mail and money orders go into effect on April 28.

Pointing out that there is a chance the House group will accede to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield's request for $47 million to run his department for the last three months of the government's fiscal year, and that the House will support the sub-committee's action, Conlon said any reduction in forces or service would be "deplorable."

Equal To Four Employees
It is estimated that approximately 35 hours a week will be saved in postal collections by the curtailment order, some 80 hours in carrier service, and 65 hours in delivery of special deliveries. This averages out, the postmaster said, to the equivalent of four full-time employees working 40-hour weeks.

Beginning Saturday, Conlon explained that the curtailment order will affect Station A in South Cumberland and all other stations in the region. The only service available Saturday and Sunday will be box services and special deliveries, he pointed out.

Contract stations, stores and establishments where money orders, stamps and other postal services are available to the public, will continue to operate as before, Conlon said, with the exception that these stations will not accept fourth class mail (parcel post).

The postmaster also noted that window service will be cut at the Post Office next week. In view of the orders from the postmaster general, Conlon said the parcel post, general delivery, registry and C.O.D. windows will be open from 8:30 to 5 p. m. Normal hours, he explained, have been from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

No Bulk Reception
Conlon also pointed out that no bulk deliveries of mail will be accepted at the Post Office either Saturday or Sunday. Usually, he explained, such deliveries are accepted from the mailing platform in the back of the Post Office, but under the restrictions imposed only first class mail and newspapers will be accepted.

The impending embargo, Conlon repeated, will have the most telling effect on the general public. In this area alone, he said, the existence of many firms depends on third class mailing privileges. The embargo will also affect religious and charitable organizations who use this means of reaching the public for contributions.

Present plans call for medicines to be the only article which will be accepted for mailing under third class status, Conlon said.

The only service, he concluded, which will be available to the public either Saturday or Sunday will be the stamp machines in the lobby of the Post Office.

Liquor Dealers To Get Charter

The Allegany County Retail Liquor Dealers Association met yesterday at the Little Ritz in Frostburg and made plans for a charter presentation.

Casper R. Taylor Sr., president, said the charter affiliating the county group with the Maryland Retail Liquor Dealers Association will be presented at a dinner at the Clarysville Inn Wednesday, May 8, at 6:30 p. m.

Here for the event will be Jack Nimitz, Baltimore, state association president.

Certificates of membership will be presented each dealer belonging to the association. Taylor said 90 percent of those holding liquor licenses have joined the organization.

Routch Conducting Music Festival

Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in Allegany County schools, is in Summersville, Pa., as guest conductor of the annual music festival of Jefferson County high schools. This is the second year in which Routch has been invited to conduct the festival.

The two-day program will be climaxed with a concert tomorrow evening. Approximately 120 students from six Jefferson County high schools are participating in the festival.

Tic. DeWitt said the apparent cause of the accident was excessive speed.

Two Promoted On Staff Of Paper Firm

Two changes in the staff of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company were announced this morning by William M. Thompson, general superintendent of the Luke mill.

Roy P. Webber, 123 Main Street, Westernport, was promoted to staff assistant to the papermill superintendent, while Baxter L. Willey, 221 Miller Street, Westernport, was transferred to the technical service department of the mill.

Webber, who was a member of the technical service department at Luke, joined the company in October 1933 at the Charleston (S. C.) Mill. In August of 1951 he was transferred to the research department at the Charleston plant, and on June 1, 1956, he was transferred to the research department of the Covington, Va., plant.

Webber was then transferred on July 1, 1956 to the technical service department at Luke.

Willey, who has been employed at the Luke plant since June of 1942, was transferred to the technical service department where he will be responsible for study dealing with long range design and development in the field of paper finishing.

He joined the company as a chemist in the main laboratory at Luke and held that position until 1946 when he was changed to the coating preparation department. In 1951 he was promoted to foreman in the finishing room and in 1953 he was promoted to finishing superintendent.

A year later he became assistant paper superintendent.

A native of Steuben, Maine, he was graduated from the University of Maine in 1942 with a degree in chemical engineering.

Ossip Gabriilovitch, noted orchestra conductor, married Mark Twain's daughter in 1909.

Obituary

Lucy Girard, Ohio, died suddenly Tuesday at his home.

A native of Hoffman, he was a son of the late John and Jemima (Hendley) Wright. His wife, Mrs. Annie (England) Wright, preceded him in death.

He was the last member of his immediate family. Survivors include several nieces and nephews.

Interment will be held tomorrow in Girard.

Atlee Services

Services for Mrs. Edith May Rice, 65, Baltimore Pike, who died yesterday at her home, will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at Pleasant Grove Methodist Church.

Rev. Louis L. Emerick, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. B. F. Hartman, pastor of Melvin Methodist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

The body is at the Silex Funeral Residence.

George B. Layman

GRANTSVILLE — George B. Layman, 92, former resident, died last Saturday in the Storm Lake Hospital in Newell, Iowa, where he had been a patient one year.

He was a son of the late George L. and Sefora (Heuch) Layman, formerly of Frostburg.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Lee Stacker, Butte, Mont., two nephews, Charles C. and Scott Layman, both of this area, and a niece, Mrs. Margaret Layman, also of this area.

Cunningham Services

Services for Mrs. Bessie May Cunningham, 78, who died yesterday at her home, 105 Independence Street, will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Rev. James D. Elliott, pastor of Central Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Two County Bills Signed

Governor McKeldin yesterday signed the bill that sets up the participation of the Tri-Town in the new waste disposal plant of the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The bill authorizes the Upper Potomac River Commission to construct, maintain and operate the waste treatment plant through the issuance of revenue bonds.

The measure was sponsored by the Allegany and Garrett county delegations.

Only one other Allegany county bill was included in the batch of 255 bills signed into law. That was House Bill 918 which provides for a revision of the dog laws in this county.

It provides for the establishment of a pound and dog wardens, to be financed by licenses and handled through a contract with the Animal Welfare of Allegany County, Inc.

The dog wardens will have the powers of a constable in selling licenses, and taking care of strays, sick or injured dogs.

Two other bills sponsored by Allegany County delegates were also signed — House Bill 139, by Del. Noel Speir Cook, that leaves payments of appraisers of estates up to the discretion of the orphans court judges, and House Bill 890, by Del. Estel C. Kelley, that increases from $2,000 to $4,000 the share awarded the surviving husband and widow in cases where the intestate left no surviving children or parents, but did leave a brother or sister or child of a brother or sister.

NEW KRAUT, PORK 'N' APPLE DINNER

FROM THE LAND OF THE BAYOUS, A

FOOD PG.—Times—with 2 col cut To do justice to their Kraut, Pork 'n' Apple Dinner Season, the home economist of the National Kraut Packers Association went afield for some new flavor combinations. From New Orleans, they brought this mouth-watering way of combining kraut, apple sauce, and individual ham and pork loaves. Zesty horse-radish and Louisiana yams put it into the wonderfully different recipe category. Try it and see if you don't agree.

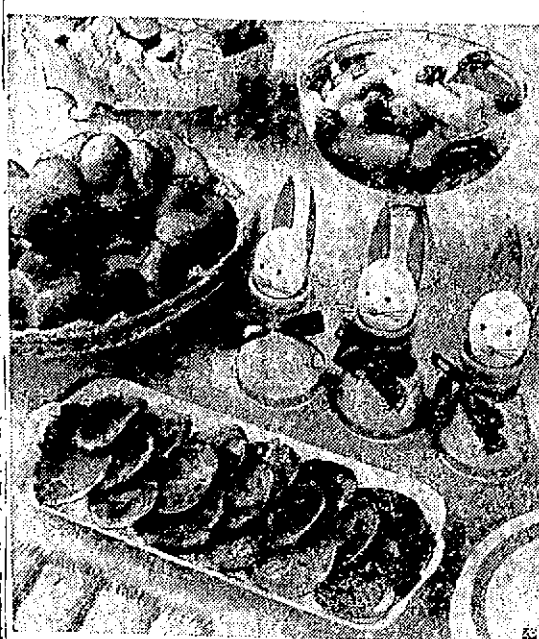

New Orleans Sauerkraut Bake (Makes 4 servings)
 1 pound cooked ham
 1/2 pound lean pork shoulder
 1 small onion
 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
 1/2 cup milk
 2 eggs, beaten
 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
 1 1/2 tablespoons horse-radish
 1 1-pound 11-ounce can sauerkraut, drained

3 tablespoons brown sugar
 1 cup canned apple sauce
 4 medium-sized Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and sliced

Grind ham, pork shoulder and onion together. Add bread crumbs, milk, egg, mustard and watering way of combining kraut, apple sauce, and individual ham and pork loaves. Zesty horse-radish and Louisiana yams put it into the wonderfully different recipe category. Try it and see if you don't agree.

Festive Fare For Easter Brunch

BUNNY EGGS AND CLOVER ROLLS help to make a joyous Easter brunch.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

An Easter Sunday brunch is a wonderful way to say a spring-time welcome to friends.

For your centerpiece, you might use golden daffodils and Easter Bunny Eggs.

If ham is not on the menu for a later-in-the-day dinner, you may wish to serve Canadian bacon with a cheese soufflé, Clover Rolls and spicy apple butter. Add a compote of fresh strawberries, orange slices and canned apricots or frozen peaches and you'll have a delectable meal.

Here's how to make eggs into bunnies, a tip on preparing the Canadian bacon and the recipe for the Clover Rolls.

EASTER BUNNY EGGS
 First hard-cook eggs and leave white or dye pastel shades with food coloring. Cut long bunny ears out of construction paper and cellophane tape them to the eggs. With crayon, draw eyes. Two or three clean wisps of straw pulled from a whiskbroom will make each set of whiskers; attach them to the eggs with small bits of pink candle wax, forming noses. Place finished bunny heads in small sections of two-section egg cups and tie ribbon around edges of cups for neckties.

CANADIAN BACON
 The Canadian bacon may be pan-fried in an electric skillet right at the table or it may be pan-fried in a regular skillet in the kitchen and then arranged attractively on a hot platter and garnished with parsley. Whichever type of skillet is used, melt a little butter in it and then add the bacon slices — cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick — and turn to brown evenly. Serve piping hot.

EASTER CLOVER ROLLS
 Ingredients: 1/2 cup milk, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, 4 1/2 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon extract, 5 1/2 cups sifted flour (about), melted butter or margarine.

Method: Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture and lemon extract. Add half the flour; beat until smooth; stir in additional flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with melted butter; cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board; divide dough in half. Form each half into a 9 inch roll; cut each roll into 9 equal pieces; form each piece into 3 small balls. Brush sides with melted butter. Place 3 balls in each section of greased muffin pans (each cup 2 1/2 by 1 1/4 inches); cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Brush lightly with melted butter. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Makes 18 rolls.

Note: The grated rind of a lemon may be substituted for the lemon extract called for in the recipe. If this dough is kneaded well, and the other directions followed carefully, you should have rolls with excellent texture. If made a day or so before, they may be stored in tightly-closed plastic bags in the refrigerator, then reheated in a hot oven just before serving.

Drop-Out Student Easily Spotted

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit school board attendance official Eugene Toomer says the child most apt to drop out of school can be spotted ahead of time.

Toomer says those most likely to quit are "bored, restless, emotionally unstable, poor readers, have family problems and show dislike of certain subjects."

He warns that "a lot of children are forced out of school by unsympathetic teachers and counselors."

"Potential drop-outs need sympathetic counseling and unfortunately it's difficult for a teacher with 40 new pupils every 45 minutes to give them that kind of attention."

Eggs In Muffins

Cut wells out of English muffins; butter the cut surfaces and toast the muffins in a hot oven. Fill the wells with scrambled eggs mixed with diced ham.

TO KOREA COMMAND—
 Gen. George H. Decker, above, at present deputy commander of United States forces in Europe, has been named by the Pentagon to take over as commander of U.N. forces in Korea, effective July 1. He succeeds Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, who will become the Army's vice chief of staff at that time.

Barbecue Method Adopts Itself To Meatless Meals

Barbecues are family favorites, and using the barbecue technique on meatless Lenten meals can delight the family.

Cheese fits into this plan particularly well, since it not only lends itself to barbecue methods but also is high in protein. Mixing cheese with apples is a "natural" combination.

Here's a recipe for apple sauce, barbecue on English muffins that will yield four servings:

1/2 cup sliced onion
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon oregano
 1/2 cup ketchup
 1 1/2 cups canned apple sauce
 4 English muffins
 8 thin slices mozzarella cheese
 1/2 cup canned mushrooms, sliced

1/4 cup Parmesan-style cheese
 Saute onion in butter or margarine until golden brown; add salt, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, oregano, ketchup and apple sauce. Heat, stirring occasionally.

Split English muffins. Spoon the apple sauce mixture on each skillet, under the broiler or in a half; place a slice of mozzarella the oven.

cheese on top. Sprinkle with a few sliced mushrooms and Parmesan-style cheese. Place under broiler until mozzarella cheese is melted. Serve at once.

Ham In Squash

Ever fill the cavities of baked acorn squash with creamed ham? Nice for lunch or supper.

Slash the fat around the edge of a ham slice before cooking it so the meat won't curl in the apple sauce mixture on each skillet, under the broiler or in the oven.

Corn Meal Used In Griddle Cakes

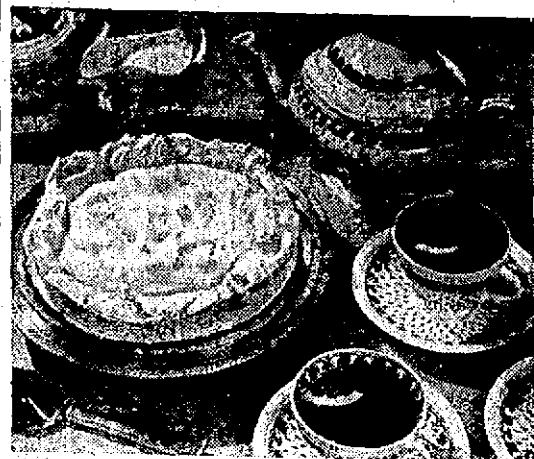

If your family greets a griddle cake breakfast with glee, there's news in the corn meal and molasses additions in this recipe.

Corn Meal Griddle Cakes

- 1 cup yellow corn meal
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 3/4 cup melted butter

Sift together corn meal, flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg; add milk. Combine with dry ingredients. Add molasses and butter, mixing until smooth. Drop by spoonfuls on hot griddle, spreading thin. Bake, turning to brown on both sides. Serves 4.

A Scrumptious Easter Dessert

PERFECT EASTER DESSERT... Meringue with orange filling.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

Easter entertaining deserves this sweet and airy torte. It's a light-as-thistledown meringue filled with an orange custard and a topping of whipped cream.

Easter comes only once a year, so let's forget about weight, watching and eat something scrumptiously rich!

We think hot fragrant cups of it in an oven that has been pre-heated, scented with lemon, perfect heated, turn off the heat and forget the whole thing for the next five hours. Then open the oven door and you'll see the meringue beautifully set with a faint tan tinge. The four yolks from the whites used in the meringue are put into the orange filling.

Stowaway Torte

Ingredients: 4 egg whites, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 3/4 cup sugar, Orange Filling, cup heavy cream, confectioners' sugar, vanilla.

Method: Pre-heat oven to very hot (450 degrees). Beat the egg whites, salt and cream of tartar together in a large mixing bowl with rotary beater (hand or electric) until frothy. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating very vigorously by hand or at high speed with electric mixer, until meringue holds very stiff glossy peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Spread bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate generously with butter. Turn meringue into buttered pie plate and spread evenly, but making a slight well in the center. Place in pre-heated oven, then turn off heat at once. Allow to stand in turned-off closed oven, without opening door, for 5 hours. Fill with cool Orange Filling and re-so (refrigerate until serving time. (Filling may be "runny" when first added but it will set during refrigeration and cut well.) Top with whipped cream — sweetened with a smidgen of confectioners' sugar and vanilla — and serve.

Orange Filling

Ingredients: 4 egg yolks, 3/4 cup sugar, salt, 1/2 cup strained orange juice, grated rind of 1 orange.

Method: Beat the egg yolks until they are thickened and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar and a dash of salt, then add orange juice and beat enough to combine. Cook in top part of double boiler, over hot (not boiling) water until thickened. Stir in orange rind. Cool and spoon into well in meringue.

Points On Braising

It's well to remember that when braising, first, brown the meat on all sides in its own fat or lard or drippings. Second, season the meat with salt and pepper. Third, add a small amount of liquid, cover tightly and cook slowly, or simmer, until meat is tender. Fourth, add vegetables, if included in recipe, just long enough before serving to be cooked, about 15 to 30 minutes.

Fresh grapefruit sections give just the right tang to canned pineapple. Use the two fruits for a company compote.

FATH FOLDS FASHION—Mrs. Genevieve Fath, widow of the late fashion designer Jacques Fath, is shown in the studio of her world-famous Parisian fashion house, which is soon to close its doors. Mrs. Fath carried on the business for three years after her husband's death, and its expected closing in June will leave Christian Dior as Paris' No. 1 fashion arbiter.

Baked Lima And Chicken Barbecue Unusual Treat

"We'll take chicken any day —" "barbecue" complete whether served out in the open or indoors.

Baked Lima Chicken Barbecue

- 1 1/2 cups California large dry limas
- 3/4 cups boiling water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- Barbecue Sauce
- 6 pieces frying chicken
- Garlic salt
- Paprika
- Flour
- Heated oil

Barbecue Sauce:—

- 1 small onion
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 cup tomato catsup
3/4 cup cooking liquid from beans
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons wine vinegar

Rinse limas. Cook in boiling salted water for 1/2 hour. Drain, saving cooking liquid. Place limas in large casserole or baking pan. Pour on the barbecue sauce, cover and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Meanwhile season chicken pieces with garlic salt and by including sugar in the mix, paprika, and sprinkle lightly with ture. Use about one teaspoon flour. Brown well on both sides sugar to a pint of dressing.

in heated oil. Arrange chicken in casserole, with beans, and continue baking until both are tender, about 1/2 hour longer. Barbecue Sauce: Chop onion and garlic fine; cook in butter until soft. Add all remaining ingredients and bring to a boil before pouring over limas. Makes 6 servings.

Sugar Urged In Dressing—Add a delightfully different dimension to your favorite minutes. Meanwhile season chicken pieces with garlic salt and by including sugar in the mix, paprika, and sprinkle lightly with ture. Use about one teaspoon flour. Brown well on both sides sugar to a pint of dressing.

Recipe Tip For Tasty Casserole

Explore the recipe field for new casserole combinations that have a bit of imagination. Reba Staggs, well-known home economist and meat expert, considers Veal and Rice Casserole a combination that's just a little different and distinctive. Seasoned with soy sauce, diced celery, chopped onion and cream of mushroom soup, this dish has a characteristic flavor all its own.

Since veal comes from a young animal, it lacks sufficient fat for broiling. Veal steaks or chops are best when braised or cooked in liquid as for stew.

- 1 pound boneless veal, cut in 1-inch cubes
 - 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
 - 1/2 cup chopped onion (1 medium onion)
 - 1 cup diced celery
 - 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) cream of mushroom soup
 - 2 1/2 cups water
 - 2 bouillon cubes
 - 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 - 1 cup rice
- Brown veal in lard or drippings. Add onion and celery and cook about 3 minutes. Stir in soup, water, bouillon cubes, soy sauce and rice and heat until mixture simmers. Then pour mixture into a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1 hour or until meat is tender and rice is done. Yield: 6 servings.

Cracker Iden
Spread crackers with peanut butter and top each one with a square of partially cooked bacon. Broil until the bacon is crisp.

Like buttermilk? You can serve it as a cold soup if you add diced cucumber, minced parsley and diced tomatoes (peeled and seeded) to it. For a topping use minced chives or minced green onions.

School Groups Go To Market To Learn Nutrition Facts

GOOD NUTRITION is being taught teen-agers at the point of sale in many cities. Above, Pittsburgh youngsters learn.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

In cooperation with home economists and local school boards, many markets are helping teach good nutrition to our teen-agers at the point of sale.

A national teen-age magazine is back of this effort to upgrade youthful eating habits. Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Paul, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and many other cities are backing the movement. Calories, proteins and minerals take on vivid reality when a school group goes to market with a home economics teacher. They assemble a balanced meal from the stock and learn about quality and cost.

For an hour or more the supermarket becomes their classroom where they learn the difference between fresh, frozen and canned fruits and vegetables, about the many packaged cake and biscuit mixes, cuts of meat, use of meat tenderizers for the tougher cuts, etc. Also they learn how to combine enough of the foods on display into a balanced meal within the family budget.

This highly approved course in nutrition includes recipes for easy meals which teen-agers themselves can prepare. These are given to the students in pamphlet form, prepared by the food experts of the magazine.

Quick Lemon-Meringue Pie
Crust: Roll 16 graham crackers into crumbs. Blend with 1/4 cup softened butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sugar. Press into 9-inch pie plate; chill.

Filling: Blend 1 can (14 ounces) sweetened condensed milk, 1 cup lemon juice, grated rind of 1 lemon and 2 beaten egg yolks. Pour into crust. Beat 2 egg whites until they hold peak. Gradually add 4 tablespoons sugar, beating until stiff but not dry. Spread

Salmon Sour Cream Quickie For Lent

This salmon in sour cream is a Lenten quickie with gourmet overtones.

Open a pound can of salmon, break into bite-sized pieces. Turn into a shallow baking dish and bake at 375° F. for 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, mix a cup of sour cream with three drained tablespoons of capers. Pour over salmon, sprinkle with paprika, and bake for 5 minutes more.

Pan-Broiled Franks

Ever pan-broil frankfurters? To do so melt a tablespoon of butter or margarine in a medium-sized skillet until very hot but not brown; add the frankfurters and cook over low heat. Turn the franks gently so all sides will brown.

Cranberry Relish

Making raw cranberry relish? You can use a fine, medium or coarse blade when putting the berries through the food chopper.

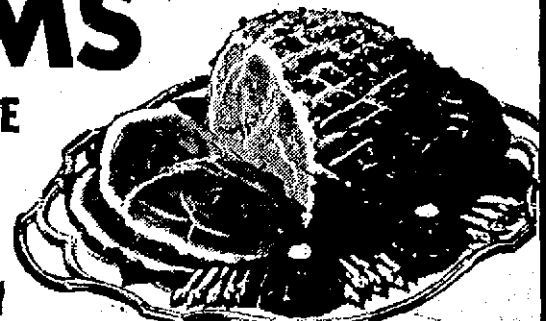

Sour Cream Dressing Served On Greens

Try this on a green salad, as a changeoff from oil and vinegar. Mash the yolks of two hard-cooked eggs and add to them a teaspoon of vinegar and 1/2 cup of sour cream.

Mix thoroughly and add salt and pepper to taste. Stir in a teaspoon of chopped fresh parsley. Add, if you like, 2 tablespoons of fine-diced cucumber. Wonderful with Boston lettuce.

Sophia Loren's Contract Puts Ban On Cheesecake

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — You know Sophia Loren has conquered Hollywood when you learn she has:

Made three studios accept her on her own terms — no cheesecake; had studios fighting to give her parties; made Clark Gable blush.

It's all true. The cheesecake edict may surprise some Americans who think of Italian film actresses in terms of leg art. "Sure, I did cheesecake when I was starting out," said the actress in flawless English. "I had no control over what they did with me. In those days I thanked photographers for taking my picture — though they seemed to enjoy themselves."

"Later, my producer sold my pictures with the sex angle. I think that is a mistake. It is the cheap way of selling pictures."

She said that her contracts now give her final approval of all publicity photos on her pictures. She figures she can be sexy without scanty costumes. "You are born with sex; you can't manufacture it by nudity," she said.

Miss Loren has contracts with 20th Century-Fox, Paramount and Columbia, and has made a film recently for Stanley Kramer.

About her encounter with Gable: "He is so timid. He actually blushed when he met me. Her reaction to Jerry Lewis: 'He is also timid, but he covers it up by acting crazy. He is very nervous.'"

Miss Loren said she is already shopping for a house to buy and expects her three contracts to keep her here indefinitely.

Rights Of Way Granted By Deeds

Deeds granting rights of way on Oaklawn Avenue in LaVale to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners were submitted Tuesday.

Paul Steina and Richard Heacock, who reside on the avenue, which runs from U. S. Route 40 to a bridge across Braddock Run, presented the rights of way documents.

The deeds are needed for the eventual inclusion of the avenue in the county roads system.

J. O. Bishop wrote the board that numerous requests have been made for repairs to Fir Tree Lane in the Cresaptown area but nothing has been done.

Bishop said there are many holes in the roadway and that a bridge across a small stream is in danger of caving in. The matter was referred to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

Better Than N. Y.

Film Capital Preferred By TV Producer

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK — Ask many a housewife about Matinee Theater and she'll tell you that it has the capacity to entertain for an hour five afternoons a week on NBC-TV.

Matinee Theater is surprising on two scores. Productionwise this Hollywood-created live color program rolls on without interruption. Entertainingwise, it is slick but it generally has resisted the daytime impulse of television to go to soap opera.

"We have a conspiracy to please the public," its executive producer, Albert McCleery, said the other day when he came to town from Hollywood. "By pleasing the public we please our sponsors, NBC—and ourselves."

Matinee Theater could not be produced in New York because of lack of studio space. If it were, it probably would receive more public mention than it does, McCleery believes. But even if it could be produced in New York, he would prefer that it come from Hollywood.

"If it came from New York it would be a shoddy show productionwise," he said. "In Hollywood we have the riches of the earth. The best in properties and costumes have been accumulated there. Once, in a production, I asked for a crown, and they handed me a crown a king had worn. Once, when we were doing the life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, we used a dress she actually had worn."

"Another pleasant thing about producing there is that Hollywood manpower is young and eager."

As one trained in the New York theater, McCleery likes many things about New York — though not the recent fad for mannered, hair-shirt acting. When a hair-shirt New York actor comes to Hollywood, he either (A) becomes an improved actor, or (B) doesn't work, says McCleery.

"You meet more people from Kansas in Hollywood," he says. "Hollywood knows the tastes and interests of people in the rest of the country as New York never will."

WOULDN'T GO—Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, wife of Republican senator from Wisconsin, said she would not have attended a White House luncheon yesterday even if she had gotten her invitation in time. The senator has been snubbed at formal dinners and receptions this year at the White House.

Carl Sandburg is known as the "Poet of American Industry."

Maryland Crab Season Starts Out Badly As Stormy Weather Cuts Catch

CRISFIELD, Md. — Stormy weather has made the first week of the Maryland crab season pretty much of a wash out.

The cold, wet weather kept the crabbers ashore and the crabs—lovers of warm weather and water—in the mud.

One crabber reported he took a barrel of crabs one day and about a half-barrel the next day.

Despite the slowness of the Maryland season in getting started, the supply of crabs to packing houses on the southern Eastern Shore has been picking up. Most of the crabs, however, are coming from Virginia's seaside.

By B. J. McDONALD
CEDAR POINT, Kans.—(INS)—The four-minute mile might have been run 20 years ago—except for a baseball game.

Glenn Cunningham, world record holder in the 1930's, disclosed today that abscessed teeth, caused by a baseball striking him in the mouth in high school days, apparently hampered his running.

While the former "Elkhart Express" did not claim he could have been the first to break the four-minute barrier, he told International News Service:

"After the teeth were pulled in 1941, I could run faster and easier in the time trials."

Dentist Emphatic
The dentist who pulled Cunningham's four lower front teeth was more emphatic. Said Dr. Bill Jensen of Peabody, Kans.:

"I'm sure Glenn would have run a four-minute mile back in the 1930's if those teeth had been pulled two or three years earlier."

Cunningham, now the father of eight children, lives on a ranch near Cedar Point and travels extensively giving talks to young people. He said:

"I found out the year after I stopped competing that I was abscessed teeth and not burns on my legs suffered in childhood that caused me such muscle soreness after my college races. When the teeth were pulled, I felt better immediately and my legs were 100 per cent better."

He kept in training several more years and could run faster and easier in time trials. I don't think there is any doubt that I would have made better marks."

Dr. Jensen explained:
Injury Killed Nerves
"The baseball injury apparently killed the nerves in the teeth, which became abscessed. There were no cavities, however, so this was not discovered by other dentists. I happened to take a hill-mouth X-ray which disclosed the abscesses."

Cunningham once held, simultaneously, world records for both the indoor and outdoor miles. He hit 4:06.7 outdoors and 4:04.4 indoors in 1931. His paced mile of 4:04.4 on Dartmouth's 6½-lap board track in 1938 still is his second swiftest indoor performance in history, and he was the first runner to be mentioned prominently as capable of the magical four-minute mile.

Asked to comment on the failure of Wes Santee, recent Kansas U. miler, to achieve the four-minute mile, Cunningham said:

"I'm sure Wes was capable of running the mile under four minutes. He just did not get the 'combinations' right. If he had run against Rannister, Landy and Bailey, he probably could have equaled or bettered their performances."

Trying Too Hard
"I think he was trying too hard for the record—instead of building himself up to a peak. The emotional pressure is greater for a runner than the physical exertion. When I ran, I just went out to win the race and let the time take care of itself."

"If you shoot for records, you won't last long because a runner reaches his peak, then goes down, then comes up again. It's a rhythmic cycle. I preferred to get on a high plane of efficiency and try to win the races. I think you last longer that way."

Cunningham added that British runners have predominated in achieving the four-minute mile because they "worked harder," running six days a week. He said:

"I don't think the British have something our boys lack. I've said many times that the mental attitude is the important thing. It's a matter of having conditions just right and being able to build up for one event."

Champ Gonzales
Heads Survivors
In Pro Net Play

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Tennis champion Richard "Poncho" Gonzales heads the list of four singles survivors as the world pro tennis championships enter the semi-final round at the Cleveland Arena tonight.

Gonzales, who is gunning for his fourth straight crown, faces Tony Trabert, former Cincinnati amateur ace, in the featured battle, while Australian Ken Rosewall takes on Poncho Segura in the other singles tussle.

In opening round play held last night before a sparse crowd of about 2,500 Gonzales ousted Frank Parker of Milwaukee, 6-2, 6-3. Trabert defeated Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Cal., 6-3, 7-5, in the longest fray; Segura downed Dinky Pails of Australia, 6-6, 6-4, and Rosewall blasted Bobby Nigges of Miami Beach, 6-2, 6-2.

Kovacs and Nigges earned the right to meet Trabert and Rosewall after eliminating Joe Whelan of Jacksonville, Fla., 6-1, and Al Doyle of New York, 6-2, respectively.

The pros are battling for prizes totaling $10,000 during the three-night show which winds up tomorrow.

The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals 16 times in 22 games during the 1956 season.

Rickard Used Hypnosis As Boxing Boss

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Half a century ago Tex Rickard astounded the boxing world by piling $32,500 in gold pieces in a bank window at Goldfield, Nev. This was the purse offered for a world light-weight championship fight between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson.

For 25 years thereafter millions of words were written about the faustic promoter who built flimsy wooden stadiums practically overnight to stage battles that made history and changed prize fighting from a felony to a respectable, legal industry.

Now, nearly three decades after George Lewis Rickard's elaborate funeral in the Madison Square Garden he built in his book, The Magnificent Rube (McGraw-Hill, $4.50) Charles Samuels reveals how and why the light-tipped man from the plains became the greatest fight promoter the world has ever known.

Would Have Cut TV
The question immediately arises: What would Rickard have done to compete with television. "Tex would have limited TV," says Nat Fleischer, the ring historian who knew him well. "Certainly he would not put all the small clubs out of business by selling shows he could promote into $100,000 gates for $24,000 and $19,600, which is what the International Boxing Club is doing. He loved the big productions and the roar of the crowd too much for that."

From childhood on, Rickard's life was studied with story-book action. Although in later years Tex was vague as to whether he was born in Missouri or Kansas, his mother, Lucretia, recalled that she did not bear her infant's first cry in a cabin in Clay County, Mo., due to a posse taking pot-shots at Jesse and Frank James.

Before creating the million-dollar gates, Rickard had been successfully a cowboy, town marshal, prospector in the Yukon, gambling house and saloon keeper in the Klondike and Nevada roughies, soldier of fortune in South Africa and a cattle baron in Paraguay.

Had Winning Way
Rickard mixed a keen shrewdness with a disarming naivete. He had a winning way with big people. His contagious enthusiasm was his driving force. He had the power of infecting his millionaires with excitement about his dream extravaganzas.

If perchance the millionaires balked at his wild scheme, Rickard undauntedly took the gamble alone, seemingly confident that the public, hypnotized by the daring of his venture, would let him down. He did this when Billy Brady and Charles B. Cochran, appalled at the staggering price of the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier fight, backed out.

Not until Rickard's last big production—Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney—did his public fail him.

Rickard threw money around like confetti. When his matchmaker, Jess McMahon, told him that he had signed a fighter for a moderate sum, Tex shouted: "Give him some money! Make the fight big!"

Reaches First Plateau
Rickard reached his first plateau in New York with the Benny Leonard-Richie Mitchell thriller for the American Friends of France Fund, Jan. 14, 1921. He charmed Annie Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan acting as the co-promoter. The fight drew the high hat and crime crowd Tex had dreamed of for years, marked a new era in the peak busting business.

Injury To Nieman May End Oriole Hedgehopping Tours

BALTIMORE (AP)—An injury to outfielder Bob Nieman may hasten the day when the Baltimore Orioles cut short the hedge-hopping phase of spring training and make only one or two stops en route home.

The 30-year-old slugger suffered a possible hairline fracture of his right shoulder in Dallas Tuesday while making a diving catch of a sinking liner.

To Take More X-rays
Nieman arrived here last night by plane from Memphis and Dr. Erwin Mayer, team physician, said he was "in pain." Further X-ray studies are due to be made today to determine if an earlier diagnosis is correct.

Dr. G. B. Hixley, Memphis orthopedic specialist, tentatively diagnosed Nieman's ailment as a "small crack" in the scapula, a flat bone in the upper back behind the shoulder. Hixley said Nieman should be ready for the season opener in Washington next Monday.

However minor, the injury to Nieman must be considered serious until all uncertainty is removed. He is one of the few big guns in the Oriole attack.

The cleanup hitter swatted .320 last season, fifth best average in the American League. He is hitting .311 for the spring, including 13 hits in his last 24 at bats.

Should Be Ready
Nieman has been advised not to throw a baseball until the end of the week. Trainer Eddie Weidner predicts he'll be ready after three or four days of heat and diathermy treatment.

Despite the optimism, Manager Paul Richards was quite concerned. He said in Memphis yesterday: "There will be no more of these vaudeville hops for us next spring, if I have anything to say about it."

In fact, Oriole officials have been negotiating with the Chicago Cubs — their barnstorming partners — for several days regarding possibilities of remaining in Arizona a week longer next April before heading east. Only one or two stops would be made en route home.

Gale Average 1,600
Players and clubs alike have complained about the train trips and poorly conditioned diamonds previously, but none has done much to cut down because of the gate possibilities. Since leaving Arizona, however, the Orioles and Cubs have averaged only 1,600 fans per game.

Veteran George Kell sums up the players' attitude toward pre-season barnstorming thus:

"We spend five or six weeks getting into shape in Arizona and then spend the next 10 days living on a train and eating and sleeping in the wrong way. You can't help but lose about half your sharpness."

Schoolboy Boxer Paces Amateurs
BOSTON—(INS)—A New York high schoolboy today was rated the standout performer of the three-day National Amateur boxing championships.

Vincent Shomo, 16, who has been boxing since he was six, won the 135-pound title and was awarded the VFW trophy as the outstanding boxer of the tournament. Shomo wants to be a doctor and is being considered for a Yale scholarship although he has another year to go in New York's George Washington High School.

New York won team honors with the victories by Shomo, Al Pell and Rubin Pizarro.

Pell won his final from Robert Lefcovre of Winoski, Vt., fighting for the Albany, N. Y. team. Marquez defeated Charles Brown, Cincinnati, O. while Pizarro was ruled the winner over Louis Eggleston, Detroit.

vowed he "never seed nothin' like it." The Magnificent Rube is the history of Tex Rickard as I know him. The only objection I have to the book is the title. It must have been derived from the fact that Tex Rickard was 40 years of age before he visited a big city.

But there was nothing small about the ideas he got out in the sticks.

Sentinels Host Tomorrow In Track Opener

The track and field season will make its bow in the area tomorrow afternoon when a triangular meet is staged at the Fort Hill stadium.

Participating will be the host Sentinels of coach Bill Hahn along with South Hagerstown and Martinsburg. John Coburn tutors the Bulldogs while Paul Flick is in charge of the Rebels. The affair will get underway at 3:30.

The Sentinels and Bulldogs were to have met in a dual test last Saturday but heavy rains and a wet field cancelled the affair. Martinsburg then asked to participate in the meet tomorrow which had been a dual event against the Hub City cindermen.

Coach Hahn this morning announced a 15-event program which includes three relays—440, 880 and mile. Also listed are 100 and 220 dashes along with the 440, 880 and mile runs. Events will be staged in high and low hurdles, high jump, shot put, broad jump, discus and pole vault.

Tomorrow's meet is the first of seven for the locals with Hahn starting his 11th year as coach. During the past nine seasons the teams have won 33 of the 75 attempts, including the county meet for the past ten straight springs.

Holdovers from the 1956 Sentinel squad are Gerald Hammond, William Powell, John Rice, Tom Snyder, Everett Yankee, Donald Appold, Dalton Hilligas and Michael McCullough. The Hilltoppers won three of seven tries last year.

Their next showing will be in the Handley Invitational a week from Saturday at Winchester, Va.

The meet is the first for South Hagerstown, also, while the Bulldogs lost to Frederick in a previous start. It is also the first time that the Rebels and Fort Hill have met in any regularly-scheduled sports event, the Hub City school just opening last fall.

Day In Sports

We thought basketball had done its fabled last week in the district. It hasn't and its fortunate for our area. There couldn't be a much better swan song for the game in 1956-57 than the appearance here of Hundley and his All-Stars.

Sports Spatterings
Not many followers of the University of Maryland's football team this fall will be attending the Terps' opener deep in the heart of Texas against the Aggies. . . . But athletic director Bill Cobeys has done the next best thing to allow Terrapin fans to see the game. . . . When the college TV schedule was announced yesterday, the first on the video screen to be seen will be the Maryland-Texas A. & M. game.

Maryland was originally scheduled to play the Aggies of former Terp coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, on Friday night, September 20, in College Station. . . . Last month it was shifted to Saturday night and when Maryland was approached about television, Cobeys agreed to play the game in the afternoon. . . . The Aggies, by the way, have a pair of dates before a living-room audience. . . . Their annual Thanksgiving Day battle with Texas University will also be beamed out on a regional basis. . . . If you have been one of the many Pirate rooters who went around half asleep the next morning following a night game announced Milwaukee in the Wisconsin city because the game didn't end until sometime in the a.m., your troubles have been lifted an hour. . . . Passage of a daylight-savings-time law in Wisconsin, April 2, will prove a boon to Picanore partisans. . . . Since the Braves moved to Milwaukee their games have started at 8 o'clock Central Standard Time, which meant 10 p. m., here, where DST was in effect. . . . As a consequence, many were even in bed by the time the game was over and couldn't learn the final result until morning. . . . Now there will be only one hour time difference between the Central and Eastern (Cumberland) zones. . . . The clock in Milwaukee will move ahead Sunday, April 28, and be set back Saturday, September 28. . . . George Bishields, who will now turn to pitching chores for Mt. Savage following a great career on the hardwoods for the Braves the past season, has been eyed by Western Maryland College. . . . The scrappy Bishields is tabbed as a top-notch basketball prospect by the Green Terrors and was certainly one of the most aggressive and tireless performers in the area for the campaign just completed. . . . Needles To Return To Pimlico Monday
BALTIMORE—Needles, the nation's champion three-year old race horse of 1956, will return to Pimlico Race Course on Monday. The Florida-bred colt owned by the D & H Stable of Bonnie Heath and Jack Dudley, will be in a shipment of 20 horses by Trainer Hugh Fontaine from Gulfstream Park.

Pimlico was the scene of heart-break for Needles last spring. After winning the Kentucky Derby he forfeited his chances of becoming the nation's ninth Triple Crown winner when he ran second to Fabius in the Preakness.

he Yankees' perfect game hurler, will oppose Washington tomorrow in the nation's capital and try to pitch nine full innings for the first time this spring. . . . Davey Moore Barges Into Title Picture

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Davey Moore, 23, a minister's son from Springfield, Ohio, earned himself a spot among the featherweight boxing title contenders last night when he pounded his way to an easy decision over Gil Cadilli.

It was Moore's first big chance as a pro fighter and he grabbed it at it eagerly. He was on top of Cadilli, the seventh-rated contender from San Francisco, all the way.

Unanimous Decision
Judge Jerry Sherrard and Referee Percy Sarron each gave Moore a 93-93 vote. Judge Sapi Margolis scored it 99-93 and The Associated Press 100-92.

Moore, a national AAU champion in 1952 and an Olympic team member, tore into Cadilli at the start and shocked him with several good combinations before the California champ found the range.

At the end of the third round, the crowd showed its appreciation of the brisk action with loud applause.

Cadilli Fights Back
Moore staggered Cadilli in the fourth, lashing out of a clinch with a left hook to the jaw, but Cadilli fought back gamely and when the round was over Moore went to his corner bleeding freely from a cut over his right eye.

A hard right to the jaw knocked Cadilli to his knees in the sixth and he slipped to his knees again in the ninth after a right to the head.

Moore weighed 128½, Cadilli 129½.

Before the bout there was talk of providing round-by-round scores for television audiences. No such scores were given, however. The Miami Herald quoted Harry Markson, director of the International Boxing Club, as saying the sponsor preferred that the idea be tried out on a non-network program.

Hawks Again Back To Wall With Celtics

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The scrappy St. Louis Hawks have their backs to the wall in the National Basketball Assn. title playoff with the Boston Celtics. But that's a familiar position for St. Louis.

The Hawks have been doing it the hard way all season in their rise from last place at the All-Star game-break to contention for the $10,000 first prize.

Celtics Hold Edge

Boston, favored but forced twice to rally to deadlock the series, owns a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven series.

The dazzling Celtics, one of the most powerful scoring clubs in NBA annals, can win its first NBA playoff championship tonight. If they lose, the 7th game will be played in Boston Saturday afternoon.

The Eastern champs, far in front with a 44-24 season record, are not overconfident. They know the Hawks are hard to keep down.

Rebounds To Tell

"We've had our back to the wall all season," declared St. Louis Coach Alex Hannum. "We can win if we get the rebounds."

Despite the phenomenal shooting of Bob Pettit of the Hawks and the great Celtic backline of Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy, rebounds have told the story every game.

St. Louis won the two games in which it controlled the rebounds.

Rookie Bill Russell, the 6-10 Celtic center who dominated the Olympics before joining Boston with the season one-third gone, has been the big man of the series under the boards, although twice outduelled by Pettit.

May Break Record

Russell needs 19 rebounds tonight to break the NBA playoff record of 207 set by George Mikan of Minneapolis in 1952. In eight playoff games, including Boston's three-game sweep over Syracuse, Russell has 189 rebounds for a 23.7 average per game. Mikan needed 12 games to set his mark.

Through the five games with St. Louis, the Celtics have averaged 68 recoveries to 57 for the Hawks. Going into tonight's game, Pettit was on top in the scoring column with an average of 28 points in the first five encounters. Sharman is runnerup at 25.8.

Preakness Ticket Sale At Record High

BALTIMORE—Advance ticket and seal sales for the 81st running of the $100,000 Preakness on Saturday, May 18, are the highest in Pimlico's history. Executive Director Louis Pondfield announced today.

Pimlico will be aiming to top its all-time Preakness attendance mark of 40,222 set on May 11, 1945.

BUSINESS — Between blasts at generals, senators, sports writers, fans and just about everybody, Ted Williams does a little hitting for the Boston Red Sox.

Williams Rates Score Better Hurler Than Hal Newhouser

NEW YORK (AP)—When Ted Williams talks baseball he shows he is a fine analyst and a great judge of talent.

The veteran slugger, after a two-week tour of the West Coast with the Red Sox, was talking about some of the younger players he had seen.

"I didn't see any new pitchers in California or Arizona who impressed me," Williams said, "although Cleveland did seem to have a couple of good ones. But what that club needs are hitters, not pitchers. They're rich in those fellows. They've got the best one in the league in Herb Score."

Better Than 'Prince Hal' — "I used to think Hal Newhouser was the best left-hander I'd ever faced. But I think Score is going to be better. He's got more stuff than Hal ever had."

"I was interested in seeing a couple of the new Cleveland kids—Roger Maris and Russ Nixon. Maris is real fast, has a good arm and looks like a good fielder. But I don't know about his hitting. He's a dumpy little guy who reminds you a bit of Mickey Mantle in build only. As for Nixon, he's a ping pong hitter."

They tell me Kubek (Tony Kubek, Yankee rookie shortstop) is not a long ball hitter, more of a line drive hitter. I've seen him only one time and even then I didn't see him swing the bat. It seemed to me he sort of fell back on every pitch. I'd like to see more of him."

Who did he regard as the top five pitchers in the league?

"Start with Score," he said.

Then comes Billy Pierce, Bob Lemon, Whitey Ford and Frank Lary, in that order. I've been pretty lucky with Score but he's still great. Ford's been real rough on me. So has Pierce. Early Wynn is another good pitcher. So

Ford, Snead Heading Field In Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Doug Ford and Sam Snead, winner and runnerup, respectively in the Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga., four days ago, headed the field of about 130 today in the first four rounds in the $15,000 Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

They've been "Masters" here, too, over the years. Between them they have accounted for the last three Greensboro titles and Snead has won the tournament six times.

The field includes such worthies as Arnold Palmer, No. 2 money winner this year back of Ford, Mike Souchak, Art Wall, Jay Herbert and Julius Boros, with a foreign delegation headed by Peter Thomson of Australia; Stan Leonard, five-time Canadian PGA champion; and the youthful South African pros in their first visit here, Gary Player and Trevor Wilkes.

Four 18-hole rounds will be played over the par 70 Sedgefield Country Club course, measuring over 6,600 yards. Host pro Joe Zarhardt says the greens and fairways never have been in better condition for the tournament in his 10 years here.

Caseys, Legion Launch Finals

The championship shootout for the right to represent the American Division of the Allegheny County Men's Shuffleboard League against the Nationals will start tonight at the Frostburg American Legion Home.

Meeting will be season-champion Knights of Columbus and the Legionnaires in the opener of the six-game series. Three games are listed tonight in the finals with the next three carded tomorrow at the K. of C. Home. The first game gets underway at 8:30 tonight.

Frostburg and the K. of C. ran 1-2 in their division until the final night of the season when the Knights tied up the race. In a shoot-off for first place the Caseys won.

In the playoff semi-finals the Legion eliminated the Fort Ash by VFW and the Knights ushered out the Goodfellowship Club.

Finalists in the National Division are Green's Chevrolet and Fisher & Robinette.

Legion Pads Margin In Ladies Playoff

The Frostburg American Legion shuffleboarders increased their lead to 39 points last night by defeating Green's Chevrolet, 85-74, in the Allegheny County Women's Shuffleboard League playoffs.

Last night's victory in the second three-game match on the Legion boards was added to the opening 90-62 edge gained by the Legion earlier. The teams will wind up their nine-game total points series next Monday at Green's.

Phyllis Geis paced the victors with 25 points while Joann Duckworth tallied 18 points for Green's.

Bobcat Trackmen Beaten In Opener

Winning only three of 14 events, Frostburg State Teachers College track and field team was routed, 103-23, yesterday by Shippensburg (Pa.) Teachers on the winners' home grounds. The meet was the first of the season for the Bobcats who will next meet Fairmont State Teachers in Fairmont on Saturday.

Dick Gilpin won the 100 and 220-yard dashes for the Bobcats while Bruce May took the two-mile distance. Frostburg had no entries in one test—the 222-yard hurdles. Burns of the winners was high scorer for the meet with 13 points.

The Shippensburg star finished first in the broad jump, tied for first in the pole vault, got second in the high jump and third place in the 100 and 220 sprints.

Trotters Defeat Stars Ninth Time

SEATTLE (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters chalked up their ninth victory in 11 starts against the College All-Stars, 81-68, last night.

Paced by Dick Duckett of St. Johns and John Smyth of Notre Dame, the All-Stars rallied in the second quarter to come from an 11-point disadvantage to within one point of the Trotters at half-time, 40-39.

Willie Gardner set the scoring pace with 19 points for the Trotters and Andy Johnson and Roman Turman had 18 each as the Trotters rolled to their decisive victory.

Bruins Two Down In Series

BOSTON (AP)—The scrappy Boston Bruins are dead if they don't beat Montreal tonight in the third game of the Stanley Cup hockey championship series — and they know it.

Les Canadiens hold a 2-0 advantage in the best-of-seven final set going into the Boston Garden match.

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens promises his team will "get the jump on Boston" even on the Bruins' friendly ice.

"I am not going to make any predictions about winning this series in four straight," Blake said, "but I'll say the season with 238."

This. We are going to get the jump on Boston. Our team is up for the game and we're going to try to win it."

The Bruins, facing the task of winning four of a possible five remaining games in order to take the coveted top prize, are not faltering.

"I sincerely feel this series is far from settled," said Coach Milt Schmidt.

Yankee Yogi Berra entered the 1957 American League season with a major league home run record for catchers. He started the season with 238.

ACC Baseball Nines Not Scheduled Today

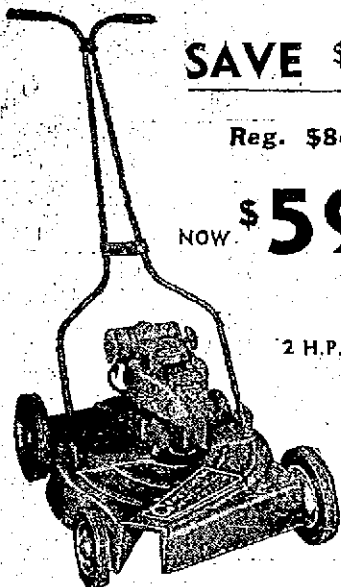

By The Associated Press
Atlantic Coast Conference baseball teams rested today with no games scheduled.

In action yesterday, Wake Forest dumped defending champion Duke, 8-5. North Carolina edged Virginia, 5-4, and South Carolina defeated Erskine, 7-5.

North Carolina's victory was its second in two days from Virginia. The Tar Heels collected 11 hits off three Virginia hurlers.

Wake Forest, whose season thus far has been mostly a losing cause, pounded out 13 hits in defeating Duke.

Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Wall Street Hears . . .

NEW YORK — (JNS) — Wall Street Hears: Air Reduction earnings are running at about $4.60 a year against $4.19 last year. The dividend, currently $2, may be raised to $2.40. Warner-Lambert's dividend—$2 and 2 per cent in stock last year—has been increased every year since it was initiated in 1951. Another increase this year is considered likely. Douglas Aircraft backlog at the start of the year, $2 billion, was approximately twice 1956 sales. Earnings for the year of $10 to $11 a share, are expected, also $4 dividend paid in 1956 should be the minimum for 1957. Yale & Towne could earn as much as $3.50 a share this year vs. $3.01 last year and $2.82 in 1955. Offerings next week will include $15 million Quebec Natural Gas debentures; 200,000 Roxbury Carpet common; 300,000 Florida Steel; 75,000 Iowa Southern utilities; $50 million Transcontinental Gas pipe line bonds; 190,000 standard pressed steel common.

Agriculture Briefs . . .

WASHINGTON (JNS) — The President's commission on increased industrial uses of agricultural products meets at the Agriculture Department today and tomorrow to discuss its forthcoming report to Congress. The five-member commission, created through 1956 soil bank legislation, expects to send its report to Capitol Hill late next week. The report is expected to contain legislative recommendations for basic and applied research to search for new uses of farm products in industry. WASHINGTON (JNS) — The Agriculture Department reports a three per cent farm employment decline in late March, due in part to wet weather over much of the eastern U. S. However, the department declared: "There is no apparent halt in the longtime downtrend in the number of persons working on farms." WASHINGTON (JNS) — March milk production of nearly 11 billion pounds edged above the previous record for the month set last year. The Agriculture Department said yesterday that April 1 production per cow averaged 20 and four-tenths pounds was also highest for the date with increases over a year ago in all regions except the North Atlantic states. WASHINGTON (JNS) — The Agriculture Department reports that the 1957 spring grazing season got off to the best start in the past three years. Pasture feed conditions for the country as a whole averaged 76 per cent of normal on April 1, the highest since 1953. The department said this reflects the favorable topsoil moisture situation that exists over much of the country at the present time. The department added: "The drought situation in the central and southern Great Plains has been eased by recent precipitation and pasture feed prospects have 'improved considerably.'"
